Line-up at start:

Yankee Stadium, New York, Oct. 12.—For the first time since the 1922 world series began, a game today really was in baseball fever.

Come Out Today

When the word went out last night that Babe Ruth finally had arrived as a ball-punching world series hitter and that the series would be a dead heat the old world series excitement, the tang, the blood-tingling that the older renewals of the October classic had inspired.

First Inning

Giants—Baneroff fumbled Grob's grounder and the batter was safe. Frisch flied out to Witt. Young lined out to Witt, who came in fast to make the catch. No runs, no hits, one error.

Yankees—Frisch tossed out Witt at first. Baneroff threw out Dugan at first. The crowd cheered. Frisch singled over to Kelley. Frisch also struck out on three pitched balls. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Second Inning

Giants—Meusel flied out to his brother, Bob. Witt took Stengel's fly. Kelley sent up a high one to Scott. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Pipp fouled out to Kelley. Ward popped out to Snyder. Schang also struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third Inning

Giants—Scott took Snyder's home run and threw him out. Neff struck out. Ward threw out Baneroff. No runs, no hits, no errors.

J. H. HOLIHAN KILLS SELF IN OFFICE

Robbers Shoot Them Down in Cold Blood Because Trainmen Recognized Them

Had Declared Recently That He Was Not Feeling Well, Friends Say

Body Found in Office After He Is Missed

J. H. Holihan, 43 years old, well known real estate man of Bismarck, was found dead in his office at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. He had committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver. The suicide probably occurred Wednesday night.

They got no loot. Poses from Oregon and California counties are seeking them. Among the possmen are Oregon National Guardsmen.

From all available indications the trainmen were shot down in cold blood because they recognized the robbers who, officials believe, are former railroad employes or at any rate men familiar with the operation of trains and the country around tunnel 13, several miles south of Ashland, Ore., where the hold-up was staged.

The mail clerk never had a chance for his life. He barricaded himself in his car and the robbers either threw the fused explosive through the window or set off a blast at the door in an effort to get in. The mail pouches were burst and torn and stove overturned. Fire followed.

Whether the mail clerk was burned or death or died from the shock of the explosion cannot be determined. His body was charred beyond recognition. All mail was destroyed.

The train emerged from the tunnel running slowly. Because a bridge crew was at work trainmen at the rear of the train felt no apprehension when the train slowed down even more. Then several shots were heard. A moment or two later came the explosion. The blast sent the fumes of dynamite smoke into the tunnel and threw the trainmen into a rendering more terrible a situation which already had thrown passengers in some coaches into something very near a panic.

Conductor C. G. Merritt, who was in charge of the train, attempted to quiet the passengers and then rushed toward the engine, accompanied by another trainman. They found S. L. Bates, 55, the engineer, and Marvin Seng, 23, the fireman, lying beside the engine cab on the ground. Each had been shot through the head and apparently had died instantly. Near their bodies lay C. O. Johnson, 40, a brakeman, not on duty who had been riding on the train. Apparently he had rushed to the engine ahead of the two trainmen and had been shot. He died from the effect of four bullet wounds in his stomach.

The body of the mail clerk, E. Dougherty, 35, was in the burning mail car.

Authorities at Redding, Reka, Siskiyou, California, and Ashland, Oregon, immediately were notified and were hastily formed under Sheriff Andrew Kalkins of Reka, Sheriff Terrell of Jackson county, Oregon, and Prohibition Enforcement Officer, S. S. Sanfer of Jacksonville, Ore. The footprints of three men believed to be the bandits were found, leading away from the scene and the possmen were trailing them.

Shortly after the hold-up an automobile was reported to have traveled through Ashland territory north at a high rate of speed. The machine is said to have contained two men whom the authorities believe may have been the two men. The tunnel was cleared and traffic resumed.

CAPITAL BONDS FOR N.D. FLOUR MILL ARE SOLD

State Industrial Commission Sells $570,000 Milling Bonds

ALSO BUILDING BONDS

$300,000 of Mill and Elevator Bonds Completes Issue for Mill Building

An additional $870,000 will be put behind the North Dakota state mill and elevator project by the state industrial commission through the sale of $200,000 mill and elevator and $570,000 of milling bonds. It was announced by the state industrial commission.

In selling $570,000 of milling bonds, issued for the purpose of purchasing wheat, it was stated by Governor Nestos that this was the limit that could be issued at this time, since the bonds must be based upon appraisals of wheat and flour and cash, and that as soon as this money is used in the operation of the mill and the appraisals can be made the industrial commission will provide the necessary finances to meet the need. The bonds are issued under the authorization of the last legislature. They are short-term because it is contemplated they will be repaid out of profits of the mill.

When the industrial commission first offered the milling bonds for sale some months ago there were no offers and bond men, because of the condition of the bonds and the fact that the bonds are short-term, were willing from five to 10 years in maturity, showed no interest in them. Negotiations continued and two bidders offered to purchase the bonds yesterday. E. M. Grant and Company of New York and Chicago bid par and a premium of $4,000 on the 5-1/2 percent mill and elevator bonds and the 5-3/4 percent milling bonds.

The $300,000 of mill and elevator bonds completes the $500,000 authorized for the Grand Forks mill construction and will take care of all construction costs, it is expected. A group of four Twin City and one Ohio bond house bid par and $3,500 premium on the $870,000 bond issue.

TANKER LOST, CREW MAY BE LOST AT SEA

Vessels Put Out to Rescue

Fail to Find Any Trace of Missing Men

Key West, Fla., Oct. 12.—Thirty men, members of the crew of the City of Everett, a tanker, which sank stern first early yesterday off the Florida coast, are believed to be fighting for their lives in open boats in a stormy sea today being searched for by vessels who answered the Everett's distress call.

The tanker foundered in a heavy sea off Tortugas.

She was reported to have a displacement of 2,595 tons.

"Am lowering boats; will sink soon! Latitud 24 30 north; longitude 86 west," was a message received from the ill-fated vessel by the radio station at the navy yard here.

Twenty-five minutes later what is believed to be the final chapter of the Everett was received through the air:

"Going down, stern first."

The ship's radio operator ended this final appeal for aid by sending out S. O. S. calls.

The Comal of the Mallory line, 75 miles away, buffeting a high running sea, shifted its course and headed for the Everett. A revenue cutter speeded out of the harbor to the reported position of the tanker, located on the chart as being 150 miles west off Tortugas.

When the Comal and revenue cutter arrived at the position given by the Everett only a small amount of debris covered the high running sea. The rescuers reported to the navy yard that not a life-boat was in sight. Throughout the night the search continued and at day-break this morning the navy yard reported it had heard nothing.

Marines said that there is a possibility that the men who took to the life boats might have been carried so far from the place where the tanker sank that they could not be sighted by the rescue ships. Other ships put out to sea to aid in the search.

"INSURGENTS" FAIL TO PUT LEMKE AWAY

Convention Resolution Held to Represent a Victory for The "Regulars"

NO ISSUES FIXED

Lines for Next Campaign To Be Drawn Later by Non-partisan League

Although the Nonpartisan League state convention ended here yesterday afternoon with unanimous proclamation of amity and unity, the question was asked today in political circles, whether the agreement between the warring factions would last through the next campaign. A convention of the league held in Bismarck just after the 1923 legislative session ended in the same manner, but factional warfare broke out shortly thereafter.

While the "insurgents" in the league were claiming victory, actually it appeared that the "regulars" had completely controlled the convention and had retained only so far as they might without sacrificing their views and at the same time placing the "insurgents."

William Lemke, one of those against whom the "insurgent" fight was directed, would only say after the convention that "I am perfectly satisfied with the result."

A regular leader said: "The Miklethun crowd got only what we wanted to give them, and it wasn't much at that."

Lemke on Committee.

Mr. Lemke took no part in the convention, but after the convention he took part in a meeting at which the question of accommodation votes was discussed.

Executive committee to devise ways and means of raising funds to pay off these accommodation votes.

He is not out of the league unless he wants to be, and it appeared from his action in accepting this appointment that he does not want to be.

The "insurgents" in the convention today were claiming they had secured a victory in forcing incorporation of a resolution severing relations with the national executive committee, formerly composed of A. C. Townley, William Lemke and F. B. Wood, while others held the "victory" was empty since the league committee had long ago ceased to function.

The league is confronted by what its members regard as a serious dilemma in approaching the next campaign, which must be settled by the convention next February.

William Lemke, by receiving 79,000 votes for governor as a Nonpartisan but in the individual column of the ballot in last November's election, created the Nonpartisan League party and it would be entitled to a place on the ballot. The Democratic party had no candidate for governor and the question is raised whether or not the Democratic party lost its place on the ballot.

What Column to Take.

The Nonpartisan League has always entered the Republican primary and has profited by the fact that many independents remained in the Democratic party.

The new action, some league forces create a straight alignment between the independent forces of the state and the Nonpartisans, and with the league turn by factional warfare and loss of power they believe that the league is at a material disadvantage.

If the league chooses to remain in the Republican party the opposition may fall the Nonpartisan League party column and confuse their voters, they say, while if they remain out of the Republican primary they lose a benefit of having for years educated their voters to vote as Republicans.

Text of Resolution.

The resolution, which was adopted in the convention as a compromise, reads as follows:

"Whereas, we feel that our connection with the old national executive committee has led to endless difficulties and unsatisfactory business relations on the part of said national executive committee, therefore be it resolved that we sever all connection with the national executive committee, that we recognize the state governing authority, advised only by the rank and file of the Nonpartisan League who are and should be the supreme authority."

Senator J. L. Miklethun claimed the adoption of the resolution represented a victory for the insurgents, and repudiates the old leaders, while the "regulars" felt satisfied that they had prevented the naming of the resolution. Mr. Lemke took

The Suicide Apparently Occurred on Wednesday Authorities Decide

COMPLAINED OF HEALTH

Had Declared Recently That He Was Not Feeling Well, Friends Say

J. H. Holihan, 43 years old, well known real estate man of Bismarck, was found dead in his office at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. He had committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver. The suicide probably occurred Wednesday night.

The body was discovered by R. D. Hoskins and Chief of Police Martinson. The former, not having noticed Mr. Holihan about, tried the door of his office earlier in the day and also tried to telephone him. Mr. Holihan's office being in the Hoskins block, with entrance on Broadway.

Suspecting that something was wrong Mr. Hoskins called Chief of Police Martinson and the two forced the door to the office.

They found Mr. Holihan dead in bed, in a side-room of the office.

He was partially clothed, lying on his back, a bullet wound was in his right temple and a 32-calibre automatic revolver had slipped from his hand.

Dr. F. B. Strauss and acting coroner W. E. Caselman were called. Dr. Strauss said that Mr. Holihan had been dead from 36 to 48 hours.

Death apparently was instantaneous. There was no sign of a convulsion, the body resting in orderly manner on the bed.

The time of the suicide was fixed by authorities partly by newspapers. Wednesday's papers were found on a table, and apparently had been read. Thursday's papers had been shoved under the office door and had not been touched on the inside.

It is believed the suicide occurred at night; else the report of the shot would have been heard.

Motive for the suicide is conjectural. Mr. Holihan had complained to a number of people recently that he was not feeling well. Dependence from this cause, and perhaps poor business and similar causes, is believed to have led to the suicide.

Mr. Holihan had lived in Bismarck 10 to 12 years. His first was in a drug store here, now out of business. He was both a druggist and chemist. Later he went into the real estate business, specializing in farm property. He formerly lived in Iowa, and his mother and brother live in Aberdeen, S. D., at this time. Mr. Holihan had been married before coming to Bismarck, friends said.

OFFICIALS SAY BOND ISSUE IS MONEY SAVING

Necessary to Vote Them in Order to Keep Work Going on Waterworks Plant

Members of the city commission, in a signed statement today, urge that voters of the city approve the $235,000 bond issue to be voted upon tomorrow in the special election. The statement follows:

Notice to Voters and Taxpayers:

In order that work may continue without interruption on the city owned waterworks system, and the plant be put in operation at the earliest possible date, it is absolutely necessary that you authorize the issue of bonds asked for at the bond election to be held Saturday, October the thirteenth, said election to be held at the regular polling places in the city. The failure to issue the bonds will result in the immediate discontinuance of all work on the city owned plant.

"This bond issue asked for is not to spend money needed because the plant is costing more than estimated. The bonds are asked for to replace equipment worn out. Therefore the issue of bonds will result in a very material saving in interest, and therefore a very substantial saving in cost to the city."

Asphyxiation Of Man Third Tragedy On Farm In 2 Days

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 12.—The asphyxiation of Peter Young Lane more well known as a clearing a well was added to the tragic schedule of events on the Lane farm at La Platte, N. D., today.

Monday night the modern barn on the farm was burned. Authorities were alerted by Herman Brandt, discharged farm hand Tuesday morning Brandt shot and severely wounded Mrs. M. Brandt and killed himself shortly after Mr. Brandt is recovering at a local hospital.

Records of a preliminary hearing recently in which Brandt was charged with slandering by Mrs. Brandt show that Brandt claimed he sold his soft drink establishment in St. Paul and went to work on the Lane farm at the woman's request.

Yankee Stadium, New York, Oct. 12.—For the first time since the 1923 world series began Gotham today really was in baseball fever. Lured by the call of the mighty bat of Babe Ruth, coaxed on by the knowledge that at least a New York Yankee team could stand toe to toe, and take it with a New York Giant outfit, the town passed from the semi-lethargic condition in which it has viewed previous installments of the fratricidal strife and went baseball mad.

In the two previous games neither the great Yankee Stadium nor the imposing Polo grounds was filled—the fans came to see a superb team in the Giants function with precision—and a mighty hero—Babe Ruth—go down in ignominious defeat.

The fans came and saw. But they have seen before the smooth-functioning of the National League's manager McGraw directing his team to victory and they had seen the illustrious Bambino groan as he struck out with a groan or popped to the infield. But they have not seen two great teams fighting neck and neck now with a deft rapier-like lunge again with a blazing attack.

Come Out Today
When the word went out last night that Babe Ruth finally had arrived as a ball-punching world series hitter and that the series stood at a dead heat the fans caught on. They caught the old world series excitement, the tang of the blood-tingling, the older renewals of the October classic had inspired.

The shifting of the scene to the Yankee stadium was helpful. The fans were livelier. They didn't sit back in their seats and pull their hats over their eyes to await the appearance of the players. They talked, they squirmed in their seats, they argued and cleared their throats to shout. Ruth came on a few minutes after the rest of the team and heard the most welcome sound he has listened to in all the world series he has participated. He walked gingerly to the batting cage, and smashed out two balls, one a low one to right-field which brought forth a bedlam of noise.

First Inning
Giants—Bancroft flied out to Meusel. Scott fumbled Groh's grounder and the batter was safe. Frisch flied out to Witt. Young lined out to Witt, who came in fast to make the catch. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Frisch tossed out Witt at first. Bancroft threw out Dugan, Ruth up. The crowd cheered. Ruth singled over second. Meusel flied out to his brother, the ball almost going into the left-field stands. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Second Inning
Giants—Meusel flied out to his brother, Bob. Witt took Stengel's fly. Kelley sent up a high one to Scott. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Pipp fouled out to Kelley. Ward popped out to Snyder. Schang flied out to Bancroft. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Third Inning
Giants—Scott took Snyder's hopper and threw him out. Neft struck out. Ward threw out Bancroft. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Bancroft made a nice stop of Scott's grounder and got in at first. Jones struck out. Witt also struck out on three pitched balls. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Fourth Inning
Giants—Scott threw out Groh. Frisch beat out a hunt for the Giants' first hit. Young flied out to Ruth. Meusel also flied out to Ruth, who caught the ball near the fence. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Yankees—Dugan sent a long hit to right for two bases. Ruth walked. Meusel hit into a double play, Bancroft to Frisch to Kelley. Dugan going to third. Frisch threw out Pipp. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Giants—Stengel walked. Kelley hit into a double play, Jones to Scott

J. H. HOLIHAN KILLS SELF IN OFFICE

POLLS OPEN AT 9 A. M., CLOSE AT 7 P. M., TOMORROW IN WATERWORKS
BOND ELECTION; FEAR LIGHT VOTE

Bismarck citizens who are interested in their own pocketbooks, in the city's acquisition of a waterworks system and in the city itself, must vote tomorrow on the questions presented in a special election by the city commission.

Unless the voters get out in great numbers—and late today it was feared that the vote would be light—the waterworks bond issue will fail.

If it fails it means the city cannot acquire its own waterworks. It also means that all money spent to date is wasted. Should the city, in the event the voters did not get out, choose to take the old method of issuing warrants instead of a bond issue, it would cost the voters thousands of dollars more in interest. (The election is not to vote more money—it is to replace warrants at a saving.)

The question is: If you want the city to go through with the city waterworks plan get out and vote yes.

If you don't just stay at home. To which might be added if you want the city to spend a lot more money than is necessary, just stay at home; but if you want to save yourself money, vote "yes."

There are two questions. Both must be voted on. The vote is "Yes" or "No." The city commission asks the voters to vote "Yes."

The questions are:

1. Shall the City of Bismarck become indebted in an amount not exceeding 4 per cent of the assessed value of the taxable value of the property of said city without regard to existing indebtedness of said city, for the purpose of constructing or purchasing a waterworks for the purpose of furnishing a supply of water to inhabitants of said city?

2. Shall the city of Bismarck issue bonds in the sum of $235,000 in denominations of $1,000 each payable one-tenth in each of the years 1934 to 1943, both inclusive, with interest at the rate of 6 per cent, payable semi-annually, such interest payments to be evidenced by interest coupons attached to such bonds for the purpose of purchasing or constructing a waterworks to supply water to inhabitants of said city?

The polls will be open from 9 a. m. to 7 p. m. This is under a new law. Formerly the polls were open until 9 p. m. Voters must get to the polls before 7 o'clock.

The places to vote are as follows:

Ward 1, Precinct 1—Wm. Moore school.
Ward 1, Precinct 2—Col. Little's garage.
Ward 2, Precinct 1—Will school.
Ward 2, Precinct 2—John Thorpe's garage, 121 West Rosser.

Ward 3, Precinct 1—High School.
Ward 3, Precinct 2—Richolt school.
Ward 4—Wachter school.
Ward 5—Baker buildings 109 Third street.
Ward 6, Precinct 1—Fire Hall.
Ward 6, Precinct 2—St. Mary's school.

to Pipp. Scott threw out Snyder. Neft, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Both pitchers were going great. Ward ripped a single into left. Schang forced Ward, Groh to Frisch. Scott scratched an infield hit. Jones hit into a double play, Frisch to Bancroft to Kelley. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Sixth Inning
Giants—Neft grounded out to Pipp. Bancroft grounded out to Frisch. Young grounded out to Dugan. Frisch singled into right. Bancroft going to second. Ward threw out Young, making a nice play of it. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Yankees—Groh threw out Witt. Dugan flied out to Young. Babe Ruth struck out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning
Giants—Meusel flied out to his brother. Stengel scored on a home run into the rightfield stands. This was his second homer of the series. Kelley flied out to Meusel. Ward tossed out Snyder. One run one hit, no errors.

Yankees—Meusel flied out to Young. Pipp got a base on balls. Ward forced Pipp, Neft to Bancroft to Frisch. Pipp sliding into the bag struck his injured ankle. He turned over on the ground and the club doctor was called, the game being halted. Pipp was lifted to his feet and walked to the bench limping badly. The doctor had wrapped his injured ankle in bandages. Play was resumed. Schang singled into left. Ward going to second. Groh took Scott's grounder and fouled third. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Eighth Inning
Giants—Ruth went to first base in place of Pipp and Haines went into rightfield. Neft singled into leftfield. Bancroft struck out. Groh also struck out. Jones tossed out Frisch. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Yankees—Hoffman batted for Jones. Hoffman popped out to Frisch. Witt got a single through the box, to Pipp. Scott threw out Snyder. Neft, no hits, no errors.

Yankees—Dugan sent a long hit to right for two bases. Ruth walked. Meusel hit into a double play, Bancroft to Frisch to Kelley. Dugan going to third. Frisch threw out Pipp. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Fifth Inning
Giants—Stengel walked. Kelley hit into a double play, Jones to Scott

State Industrial Commission
Sells $570,000 Milling
Bonds

ALSO BUILDING BONDS

$300,000 of Mill and Elevator
Bonds Completes Issue for Mill Building

An additional $870,000 will be put behind the North Dakota state mill and elevator project by the state industrial commission through the sale of $300,000 mill and elevator, and $570,000 of milling bonds, it was announced by the state industrial commission.

In selling $570,000 of milling bonds, issued for the purpose of purchasing wheat, it was stated by Governor Nestos that this was the limit that could be issued at this time, since the bonds must be based upon appraisals of wheat and flour and cash, and that as soon as this money is used in the operation of the mill and new appraisals can be made the industrial commission will provide the necessary finances to meet the need. The bonds are issued under the authorization of the last legislature. They are short-time because it is contemplated they will be repaid out of profits of the mill.

When the industrial commission first offered the milling bonds for sale some months ago there were no offers and bond men, because of the condition of the bonds and the fact that the bonds are short-time, turning from five to 10 years in maturity, showed no interest in them. Negotiations continued and two bidders offered to purchase the bonds yesterday. R. M. Grant and Company, of New York and Chicago bid par and a premium of $4,000 on the 5-12 percent mill and elevator bonds and the 5-34 percent milling bonds.

The $300,000 of mill and elevator bonds completes the $3,000,000 authorized for the Grand Forks mill construction and will take care of all construction costs, it is expected.

A group of four Twin City and one Ohio bond house bid par and $3,500 premium on the $870,000 bond issue.

TANKER LOST,
CREW MAY BE LOST AT SEA

Vessels Put Out to Rescue
Fail to Find Any Trace of Missing Men

Key West, Fla., Oct. 12.—Thirty men, members of the crew of the City of Everett, a tanker, which sank stern first early yesterday off the Florida coast, are believed to be fighting for their lives in open boats in a stormy sea today, were being searched for by vessels who answered the Everett's distress call.

The tanker foundered in a heavy sea off Tortugas. She was reported to have a displacement of 2,596 tons.

"Am lowering boats; will sink soon; latitude 24.30 north; longitude 86 west," was a message received from the ill-fated vessel by the radio station at the navy yard here.

Twenty-five minutes later what is believed to be the final chapter of the Everett was received through the air:

"Going down, stern first." The ship's radio operator ended this final appeal for aid by sending out S. O. S. calls.

The Coast to the Mallory line, 75 miles away, buffeting a high running sea, shifted its course and headed for the Everett. A revenue cutter steamed out of this harbor to the reported position of the tanker, located on the chart as being 150 miles west off Tortugas.

When the Comal and revenue cutter arrived at the position given by the Everett only a small amount of debris covered the high running sea. The rescuers reported to the navy yard that not a life-boat was in sight. Throughout the night the search continued and at day-break this morning the navy yard reported it had heard nothing.

Marines said that there is a possibility that the men who took to the life boats might have been carried so far from the place where the tanker sank that they could not be sighted by the rescue ships. Other ships put out to sea to aid in the search.

12 CONTESTS
ARRANGED FOR
BIG SALE DAY

Bismarck Merchants Offer
Special Prizes as Part of Community Sale Plan

Twelve separate prize contests are arranged by Bismarck merchants for Community Sales day Monday, October 15.

Cash and merchandise prizes are offered for the best displays of various articles of farm produce—corn, cream, eggs, pumpkin pie, white bread, potatoes, butter, flax, white eggs and celery.

The Community Sale starts at 10 a. m. Prizes should be taken to the various firms before noon Monday. Competent judges have been selected. The list of contests and prizes follows:

CORN CONTEST
The concerns named below will give awards as stated for the best ears of corn in each class. Corn must be left at the office of the prize giver before noon October 15th.

Similar prizes will be selected by the Bismarck Association of Commerce.

Awards will be made at 4 P. M. Community Day.

First Guaranty Bank—Yellow Corn. 1st Prize $5.00; second $3.00; third $2.00.

Bergeson & Son—White Corn. 1st prize $5.00; second $3.00; third $2.00.

First National Bank—Northwestern Dent. 1st Prize $5.00; second $3.00; third $2.00.

CREAM CONTEST
A. W. Lucas Company offer the following Cash prizes for the highest grade cream, according to quality, flavor and test.

1st Prize $5.00 Cash; 2nd Prize $3.00 Cash; 3rd Prize $2.00 Cash. Cream to be entered in this contest must be brought to the Northern Produce Company for testing, before noon on Monday October 15th.

Contestants must register at A. W. Lucas Co., store as soon as cream is delivered at Northern Produce Co.

Bonham's Drug Store—Dozen largest Brown Eggs. 1st Prize $3.75 Shopping Bag; 2nd Prize $3.00 Shopping Bag.

French & Welch—Best Pumpkin Pie: 1st Prize Aluminum Tea Kettle; 2nd Prize, 10 Quart Aluminum Convex Kettle, value $2.75; 3rd Prize Aluminum Roaster, value $1.75.

Sorenson Hardware Company—Best Leaf White Bread. 1st Prize $5.00; 2nd Prize $3.00; 3rd Prize $2.00.

Bismarck Bank—Peck of Potatoes, any variety. 1st Prize $5.00; 2nd Prize $3.00; 3rd Prize $2.00.

Brown & Jones—5 lb. Jar Butter. 1st Prize $5.00; 2nd Prize $3.00; 3rd Prize $2.00.

Webb Bros.—1 Quart Sample Flax. 1st Prize $5.00; 2nd Prize $3.00; 3rd Prize $2.00.

Bonham Bros.—One dozen largest White Eggs. 1st Prize $4.50 Ingersoll Radiolite Wrist Watch; 2nd Prize $3.75 Radiolite Watch; 3rd Prize, Sports Timer Watch.

Hoskins-Meyer—One Dozen Celery. Prize $3.00.

Youth Accidentally
Killed By Shotgun

Hankinson, N. D., Oct. 12.—Walter Koeppe, 14-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Franz Koeppe, was fatally wounded when his 10-gauge shotgun accidentally discharged as he was pulling it muzzle first from the bed of an auto truck. The charge tore away part of his right side. He died after suffering great agony for 36 hours.

"INSURGENTS" FAIL TO PUT LEMKE AWAY

Convention Resolution Held to Represent a Victory for The "Regulars"

NO ISSUES FIXED

Lines for Next Campaign To Be Drawn Later by Non-partisan League

Although the Nonpartisan League state convention ended here yesterday afternoon with unanimous profession of amity and unity, the question was asked today in political circles, whether the agreement between the warring factions would last through the next campaign. A convention of the league held in Bismarck just after the 1923 legislative session ended in the same manner, but factional warfare broke out shortly thereafter.

While the "insurgents" in the league were claiming victory, actually it appeared that the "regulars" had completely controlled the convention and had relented only so far as they might without sacrificing their views and at the same time placing the "insurgents" in a position against whom the "insurgent" fight was directed, would only say after the convention that "I am perfectly satisfied with the result."

A regular leader said: "The Mikethun crowd got only what we wanted to give them, and it wasn't much at that."

Lemke on Committee.
Mr. Lemke took no part in the convention, but after the convention he took part in a meeting at which the question of accommodation notes was discussed. He was put on a committee to work with the state executive committee to devise ways and means of raising funds to pay off these accommodation notes.

He is not out of the league unless he wants to be, and it appeared from his action in accepting this appointment that he does not want to be out of the league.

The "insurgents" in the convention were claiming they had secured a victory in forcing incorporation of a resolution severing all relations with the national executive committee, formerly composed of A. C. Townley, William Lemke and F. B. Wood, while others held the "victory" was empty since the league committee had long ago ceased to function.

The league is confronted by what its members regard as a serious dilemma in approaching the next campaign, which must be settled in the convention next February. William Lemke, by receiving 79,000 votes for governor as a Nonpartisan but in the individual column of the ballot in last November's election, created the Nonpartisan League party and it would be entitled to a place on the ballot. The Democratic party had no candidate for governor and the question is raised whether or not the Democratic party lost its place on the ballot.

What Column to Take.
The Nonpartisan League has always entered the Republican primary and has profited by the fact that many independents remained in the Democratic party. The new situation, some league leaders foresee, creates a straight alignment between the independent forces of the state and the Nonpartisans, and with the league turn by factional warfare and loss of power they believe that the league is at a material disadvantage.

If the league chooses to remain in the Republican party the opposition may fill the Nonpartisan League party column and confuse their voters, they say, while if they remain out of the Republican primary they lose a benefit of having for years educated their voters to vote as Republicans.

Text of Resolution.
The resolution, which was adopted by the convention as a compromise, reads as follows:

"Whereas, we feel that our connection with the old national executive committee has led to endless difficulties and unsatisfactory business relations on the part of said national executive committee, therefore be it resolved that we sever all connection with the national executive committee, that we recognize the state executive committee as the sole governing authority, advised only by the rank and file of the Nonpartisan League who are and should be the supreme authority."

Senator J. L. Mikethun claimed the adoption of the resolution represented a victory for the insurgents, and repudiated the old leaders, while the "regulars" felt satisfied that they had prevented the naming of A. C. Townley and William Lemke in the resolution. Mr. Lemke took no part in the resolution.

BODY FOUND IN OFFICE AFTER
HE IS MISSED

The Suicide Apparently Occurred on Wednesday
Authorities Decide

COMPLAINED OF HEALTH

Had Declared Recently That
He Was Not Feeling Well,
Friends Say

J. H. Holihan, 43 years old, well known real estate man of Bismarck, was found dead in his office at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon. He had committed suicide by shooting himself with a revolver. The suicide probably occurred Wednesday night.

The body was discovered by R. D. Hoskins and Chief of Police Martinson. The former, not having noticed Mr. Holihan about, tried the door of his office earlier in the day and also tried to telephone him, Mr. Holihan's office being in the Hoskins block, with entrance on Broadway.

Suspecting that something was wrong Mr. Hoskins called Chief of Police Martinson and the two forced the door to the office.

They found Mr. Holihan dead in bed, in a side-room of the office. He was partially clothed, lying on his back, a bullet wound was in his right temple and a 32-calibre automatic revolver had slipped from his hand.

Dr. F. B. Strauss and acting coroner W. S. Casselman were called. Dr. Strauss said that Mr. Holihan had been dead from 36 to 48 hours.

Death apparently was instantaneous. There was no sign of a confusion, the body resting in orderly manner on the bed.

The time of the suicide was fixed by authorities partly by newspapers. Wednesday's papers were found on a table, and apparently had been read. Thursday's papers had been shoved under the office door and had not been touched on the inside.

It is believed the suicide occurred at night; else the report of the shot would have been heard.

Motive for the suicide is conjectural. Mr. Holihan had complained to a number of people recently that he was not feeling well. Despondency from this cause, and perhaps poor business and similar causes, is believed to have led to the suicide.

Mr. Holihan had lived in Bismarck 10 to 12 years. He first was in a drug store here, now out of business. He was both a druggist and chemist. Later he went into the real estate business, specializing in farm property. He formerly lived in Iowa, and his mother and brother live in Aberdeen, S. D., at this time. Mr. Holihan had been married before coming to Bismarck, friends said.

OFFICIALS SAY
BOND ISSUE IS MONEY SAVING

Necessary to Vote Them in Order to Keep Work Going on Waterworks Plant

Members of the city commission, in a signed statement today, urge that voters of the city approve the $235,000 bond issue to be voted upon tomorrow in the special election. The statement follows:

Notice to Voters and Taxpayers:
In order that work may continue without interruption on the city owned waterworks system, and the plant be put in operation at the earliest possible date, it is absolutely necessary that you authorize the issue of bonds asked for at the bond election to be held Saturday, October the thirteenth, said election to be held at the regular polling places in the city. The failure to issue the bonds will result in the immediate discontinuance of all work on the city owned plant.

This bond issue asked for is not to supply money needed because the plant is costing more than estimated, but bonds are asked for to replace assessment warrants. Therefore the issue of assessment warrants will be cut down by the amount of bond issue. This will result in a very material saving in interest, and therefore a very substantial saving in cost to the city.

3 TRAINMEN
SLAIN DURING
DARING HOLDUP

Robbers Shoot Them Down in Cold Blood Because Train-men Recognized Them

ON PACIFIC COAST

Fast Southern Pacific Train Is Held Up on Oregon-California Border

Redding, Pa., Oct. 12.—The wooded peak of the Siskiyou on the border between Oregon and California are believed to shelter today a little group of men who yesterday afternoon held up Southern Pacific train No. 13, slew three trainmen and caused injuries to about a score of passengers through an explosion whereby they forced their way into the mail car. They got no loot.

Posses from Oregon and California counties are seeking them. Among the possmen are Oregon National Guardsmen.

From all available indications the trainmen were shot down in cold blood because they recognized the robbers who, officials believe, are former railroad employees or at any rate men familiar with the operation of trains and the country around tunnel 13, several miles south of Ashland, Ore., where the hold-up was staged.

The mail clerk never had a chance for his life. He barricaded himself in his car and the robbers either threw the fused explosive through the door or simply shot off a blast at the door in an effort to get in. The mail pouches were burst and torn and stove overturned. Fire followed.

Whether the mail clerk was burned to death or died from the shock of the explosion cannot be determined. The body was charred beyond recognition. All mail was destroyed. The concussion of the blasts shattered windows in cars farther back in the train and flying glass was responsible for passengers' injuries.

Emerges from Tunnel
The train emerged from the tunnel running slowly. Because a bridge crew was at work trainmen at the rear of the train felt no apprehension when the train slowed down even more. Then several shots were heard. A moment or two later came the explosion. The blast sent the train careening slowly down the tunnel and they seeped into the cars rendering more terrible a situation which already had thrown passengers in some coaches into something very near a panic.

Conductor C. G. Merritt, who was in charge of the train, attempted to quiet the passengers and then rushed toward the engine, accompanied by another trainman. They found S. L. Bates, 55, the engineer and Marvin Seng, 23, the fireman, lying beside the engine cab on the ground. Each had been shot through the head and apparently died instantly. Near their bodies lay C. Johnson, 40, a brakeman, not on duty who had been riding on the train. Apparently he had rushed to the engine ahead of the two trainmen and had been shot. He died from the effect of four bullet wounds in his stomach.

Posses Out
The body of the mail clerk E. Dougherty, 35, was in the burning mail car.

Authorities at Redding, Reka, Siskiyou, California, and Ashland, Oregon, immediately were notified and possmen were hastily formed under Sheriff Andrew Kallins of Reka, Sheriff Terrell of Jackson county, Oregon, and Prohibition Enforcement Officer, S. S. Sanfar of Jacksonville, Ore. The footprints of three men believed to be the bandits were found leading away from the scene and the possmen were trailing them.

Shortly after the hold-up an automobile was reported to have traveled through Ashland traveling north at a high rate of speed. The machine is said to have contained two men whom the authorities believe may have been the two men. The tunnel was cleared and traffic resumed.

Asphyxiation Of Man Third Tragedy
On Farm In 2 Days

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 12.—The asphyxiation of Peter Young, Larimore well digger, while cleaning a well was added to the tragic schedule of events on the Eisenlohr farm at Larimore within 36 hours.

Monday night the modern barn on the farm was burned, authorities believe by Harold Brock, discharged farm hand. Tuesday morning Brandt shot and severely wounded Mrs. E. M. Eisenlohr and killed himself shortly after. Mrs. Eisenlohr is recovering at a local hospital.

Records of a preliminary hearing recently in which Brandt was charged with slaying of Mrs. Eisenlohr show that Brandt claimed he sold his self drink establishment in St. Paul and went to work on the Eisenlohr farm at the woman's request.

WHEAT PROBLEM INTERNATIONAL, DR. COULTER TELLS FARM CONGRESS; REVIEWS ENTIRE FIELD

Problem Affects Not Only The Wheat Belt But All Farmers Who Grow Wheat, Speaker Tells Congress

Fargo, N. D., Oct. 11.—That the wheat problem of the United States must be considered in its international aspects as wheat is placed on a world market, that it is a long-time problem which cannot be fully answered by but temporary relief, that the wheat problem is one which affects not only the wheat belt as such, but embraces all farmers who grow wheat, are the significant points emphasized yesterday by Dr. John Lee Coulter, president of the North Dakota Agricultural college, in his address to assembled farmers, bankers, business men and agricultural leaders assembled at the seventeenth annual session of the International Farm Congress in Kansas City.

Urging diversified farming as a permanent remedy for the evils of the wheat situation, and the adoption of a better marketing system, the building up of consumption demands, the reorganization of production and the lowering of transportation costs, Dr. Coulter outlined a policy which he declared to be one that would put the wheat farmer back on his feet and yet would not be tearing down one industry in order to build up another.

The address as delivered at Kansas City yesterday follows:

Problem of Wheat Belt
Any attempt to analyze the problem of the wheat growers of the United States must necessarily touch upon three phases of the subject.

First: It is not enough to review the wheat situation in the United States alone. It is necessary to note the general world situation because wheat is a non-perishable product and moves easily from nation to nation.

Second: It is not enough to review the immediate situation—the situation as it exists today. It is necessary to review the movement over a series of years, because wheat is non-perishable and large surplus amounts may be carried over from one year to another. Also wheat and wheat substitutes are so universally grown over the world that the acreage can be expanded or contracted very rapidly if producers are informed and wish to expand or contract.

Finally, there are years of extraordinary yields both high and low which may pile up surpluses or wipe them out.

Third: It is not enough to review the situation in the wheat belt or wheat belt areas. It is equally necessary to review the situation throughout the country on the millions of diversified farms as well as on the much smaller number of special wheat growing farms.

International Problem
Wheat being essentially non-perishable and easy to measure, grade and store, is a standard international product, especially since people all over the world give it a permanent place in their diet. All people use wheat or other cereals in the form of food or as a substitute for food. The United States has almost from colonial days produced more than the requirements of the people at home.

In other words, the United States has been an exporting nation. She has therefore contributed to the world supply. Her exported surplus has had to compete with the cheapest wheat from all parts of the world, and this is true for the wheat consumed at home. While there was still an abundance of free land and while immigration moved without restraint and labor was cheap, this country could compete with the world in the markets of the world. Tariff on imports so far as wheat was concerned was merely an expression of policy and had no beneficial effect, because grain was constantly flowing out and down over the dam and never trying to climb up and in.

No More Free Land
But now free land may be considered as a matter of history and immigration is now restricted. Important items of rent or interest and of wages must now be counted in the cost of producing wheat. Furthermore the wheat area has gradually spread from the Atlantic Coast westward until now almost all parts of the country have tried wheat and have run their course as special wheat areas. No longer are there any great stretches within the United States available to use for strictly wheat growing purposes. Lower yields due to many causes must also be considered in the increased cost of production per bushel.

It would seem quite definite that there are no longer any large special wheat areas in the United States which can compete with the world market, on account of such items as rent, interest, wages, transportation, high cost of all other items entering into production and low yields. It may be another quarter of a century or even longer before special wheat growing areas in other parts of the world will have run their course in the same manner as the wheat in the United States is perfectly clear. That is to say there are few if any large stretches where specialized wheat growing can now be maintained at world market prices.

World Supply and Demand
At the present time and with the present general level of wheat prices over the world, the people of the world seem able to utilize all of the wheat produced. The reason for this is that wheat is now in general, away back in the wheat producing districts on the farms, only slightly if any above feeding values. In other words, when wheat is worth only 60 cents a bushel or 1 cent a pound, a ton of wheat—2000 pounds—will bring only $20.

Central markets of the United States at the present time are offering $20 per ton or 1 cent per pound for good timothy and $25 per ton or 1 cent 1/4 per pound for good alfalfa hay. If wheat should bring 14 cents back on the farm this should be 75 cents, and there is much wheat moving for less than this.

While this situation exists over the world in general there is no danger that any tremendous quantity will be carried over—first, because enough farmers in the world will great spring wheat belts but also on the general farms of the nation. A government and a people who will ask special groups such as farmers are to make such a sacrifice during a period of war could very well show their appreciation at the close of the war, at least as a short-time policy with proper warning, so that farmers might be able to re-organize their farming operation to a sound peace-time basis. It would be surprising to me if the farmers of this country would support any state or federal administration which failed to thus deal fairly with them. It is true that a succeeding administration of an opposite party might equally fail to do adequate justice but at least the farmers would have expressed themselves in a language which is understood best by those in public life.

Adopt Diversification
Earlier I briefly discussed the international characteristics of wheat production and consumption. I followed this with a brief review of temporary measures which might very well be taken by a national government or a people to protect an industry which had been over-expanded as a war measure in response to the government's patriotic call. Let us now turn to the matter of permanent or long-time policy. Any far-seeing, qualified student of the problem, I think, will clearly recognize that no nation or people are likely over an indefinite period to make up deficits for any one class. To do this is an unsound, economic policy.

Assuming furthermore that our government may at last provide temporary protection, what should be the long-time program? Clearly it seems that it can only be one of organized diversified farming. It is needless for me in this short address to attempt to lay out the plans for the wheat belts of Texas, or North Dakota, or any of the states between the great wheat belts. Each state must work this out for itself in co-operation with the Federal departments.

The system will vary from state to state. Suffice it to say that while at the present time wheat is the outstanding American crop, menaced by the world situation, other great staple crops such as cotton may any year find itself in the same situation. Agriculture overproduces so that every farmer has employment for his machinery and labor throughout the year during all the seasons seems to be the long-time program essential to success. Wheat is grown even today in parts of the United States in a system of diversified farming without loss and even with some profit to the grower. This same can be accomplished over much if not all of the special wheat belts by properly adjusted farm practices or farm management.

Adjust Farm Practices
It must be recognized, however, that this is not a matter of a few days. Many great areas cannot be completely re-organized over a period of ten to twenty-five years.

Farmers believing in the special wheat growing and called upon by the government to pursue this policy have gone heavily into debt and for them it is a matter of a decade or longer before they can get reorganized without very special help and in fact thousands of thousands of dollars will lose their farms in the process unless some very special good fortune comes both as regards Federal reorganization of our problem and an improved world situation. An apolitical therefore must have in mind a considerable period of years.

State departments of agriculture, agricultural organizations, the agricultural and general press and our federal and state government officials as well as the Agricultural college and Experiment stations must lend a hand.

Act For Wheat Farmer
Such an address as this, brief as it is would be pronounced faulty if the speaker failed to touch upon other proposals made, especially since many of them have both temporary and permanent merit and will be of real service to the wheat growers. In this address, I have tried principally, however, to point out the world situation and the broad, general program which we must all follow if we are to be saved.

Under these special topics which I shall barely mention there are those who would carry on campaigns for an increase in the consumption of wheat and wheat products, and this is well. If demand for the wheat grows, it will show itself in the market unless surpluses increase correspondingly, and so I would say all strength to the hands of those who are trying to increase consumption. There are those who would devote their time to decreased production, especially decreased acreage.

This is very well but in a large measure is useless as an organized program since the only success I can see along this line is not to advance less wheat acreage, but rather the planting of more profitable crops. The wheat acreage will be reduced automatically as the other crops take its place. There are those who would solve the entire problem by cooperative marketing. I have for more than twenty years strongly advised and urged this program and it is just as clear today as it was twenty-five years ago.

There is a wide program for our farmers to pursue. Great wastes exist in our present marketing system. Our surpluses are dumped up on the markets. Transportation is heavy at one season of the year and light at other seasons.

System Defective
The whole system of marketing at the present time is defective compared to the possibility under a well developed cooperative scheme. I would therefore say all strength to the hands of those who are giving their time chiefly to the problem of developing a better marketing system. There are those who would solve the problem of the wheat farmer by reducing his taxes.

While taxes are high, in fact unreasonably and unnecessarily high, it should be pointed out that taxes are a comparatively insignificant item in the cost of producing a bushel of wheat. I believe I see before me a wave of public sentiment rising on the horizon which within the next decade or two will wipe away, or at least consolidate hundreds upon hundreds of municipal, state and national commissions and boards.

Taxes Not the Solution

Taxes can and should be reduced both local, state and national but this alone would not solve the farmer's problem or contribute in large measure to this end. There are those who point to transportation charges as being beyond all reason. It is perfectly clear that transportation is at the present time adding up to a large share of the price received by the grower for his product, but all public records seem to indicate that transportation companies are not making excessive profits, unless, indeed, we go back to the original issue of stocks, bonds and other securities upon which we are at the present time paying interest in the form of freight rates.

But if we attack these values must we not at the same time attack values of all properties in the cities, towns and villages and the values of farm lands as well? Indeed the entire basis of our American system of private ownership of property must stand or fall and therefore let us recognize that there are in general no excessive profits being made by those who have investments in transportation systems. If we apply the same logic to the railroads, it is useless to attempt to solve one problem, the problem of our wheat belt farmers, by tearing down or destroying some other great industry.

New Market Routes

It would seem to me that the true way to reduce our transportation charges is, first, to distribute the movement of our products evenly over the year, and second, to reduce the cost by actually shortening the distance to the market by some such program as the St. Lawrence canal. Such measures as these would in the course of a few years reduce the cost by bushel when measured by the world market eight or 10 cents and this alone would measure the margin of profit or loss. I would say all strength to the hands of those who are striving for the step water way to the Atlantic and also to those who are trying to distribute more evenly the movement of our farm products throughout the season.

There are those who would reduce the cost of everything which the farmer must buy. This could readily be done either by repealing the Immigration Law and bringing in a flood of cheap labor, lowering wages, and in general bringing down costs of production of all other materials or a repeal of all tariff duties permitting a flood of cheaper materials to move in from other countries. This in itself would force the cutting of wages and reducing of costs of production in order that American manufacturers might compete with foreign goods. I for one would not commend either of these solutions. I would say when ninety percent of our commerce, manufacture, transportation, finance and all other activities will prosper why tear down all these while trying to improve the condition of a special group, especially when the condition of that group could so readily be improved by a policy as sound from the standpoint of economics and government as any of the other policies, whether it be immigration restriction, the protective tariff, the Federal Reserve program or other.

Build Up, Not Tear Down
Let us not tear down but let us build. Let us build a temporary structure of protection to our wheat growers during the period of readjustment and let us build permanently a reorganized system of farming in our special wheat belts as well as other special belts under the guidance and direction of all who wish to see agriculture as a whole on the most prosperous basis. Let us begin first to build up consumption; second, to reorganize production; third, to improve marketing; fourth, to reduce transportation costs; fifth, to reduce taxation and in the many other ways to improve the situation. But let this not conceal or hide from view the permanent program which we must carry forward.

You Need a Pilot

Every good ship, nearing port, takes on a pilot. Usually, the law requires it. The pilot know the channel. With his capable hands at the helm, the vessel is safe. Without him, there is danger of the shoals.

When you set sail on a shopping tour you, too, should have a pilot. Everybody needs one. And well-informed shoppers always have one—advertising.

Advertising keeps you off the rocks of extravagance and waste. It takes you straight into the port of economy. It tells you plainly where to go for what you want. It shows you how to save steps—and money—and time. By watching it carefully, each day, you are able to buy to best advantage.

Often, the advertisements will keep you from making an unwise purchase by pointing out just why one article suits you better than another. It points out for you the pick of the country's market and the selection of the particular kind, shape, size and color that best suits your taste and fits your pocket-book.

Whether you want food, clothing, furniture or a toy for the children, the advertisements can help you.

Let advertising steer your steps

ECONOMY IN RECEIVERSHIP BEING SOUGHT

The receivership administration of local banks probably will be decentralized to the extent of having district offices in the state, under plans being worked out by L. R. Baird of Dickinson, named general receiver of all banks in the state, Mr. Baird said today. He is making his office here in the Bank of North Dakota building.

Under the policy of the general receiver, the number of men acting in the capacity of receivers of banks will be reduced as much as possible. In the case of two banks being closed in one town it is certain that the administration will be under one man, Mr. Baird said. He also contemplates appointing agents who will have charge of certain districts, who may be shifted from one part of the state to another if occasion demands.

The main effort of the receivership, Mr. Baird said, will be to administer the affairs of the closed banks with as few men acting in the capacity of receiver as possible, and to gain efficiency.

Mr. Baird conferred here yesterday with L. B. Hanna, former Governor, on the matter of the administration of the closed banks.

were formulated at the convention. The administration of the state will at Grand Forks was attacked. While in the morning the leagueers voted a resolution condemning the purchase of Canadian wheat for the state mill, but only with opposition expressed, Senator Baker later declared it was a mistake and that it was a slap at C. E. Austin, manager of the mill. F. W. Castro moved to reconsider the resolution, but it was decided that it would be unwise to do so.

R. H. "Dad" Walker introduced a new note when he proposed a four-year moratorium on all farm mortgage indebtedness.

Note Situation.

Before the leagueers finally left the city there was a discussion in a meeting of the accommodation note situation. According to figures presented, obligations of about $70,000 are facing the league in accommodation notes signed by farmers to secure league indebtedness or direct notes. Many farmers will lose their homes by having to pay these notes, according to speakers, since many were placed in banks when money was borrowed and it must be repaid.

Liggett Directs Legion Meeting

By NEA Service.
San Francisco, Oct. 12.—Directing arrangements for the American Legion's annual convention here Oct. 15-19 is Lieut. Gen. Hunter S. Liggett, general chairman of the meeting.

A citizen of San Francisco and a military leader beloved of the millions of men who served overseas, General Liggett is conceded a place among the great military geniuses of the world. It was he that broke through the German lines that had existed for three years and then pushed through to Sedan, cutting off the crown prince's retreat and forcing the signing of the armistice. General Liggett planned and executed what is regarded as the greatest piece of major tactics performed by the American army—the turning movement of the 82d division. This cleared the Argonne forest and brought relief to the "Lost Battalion." Largely on this account, he was promoted to lieutenant general and given command of the First American army, consisting of 1,200,000 men and 5,000 guns, the biggest field command of any man in history.

Third Raid On Farm Home Brings 52 Quarts Liquor

Minot, Oct. 12.—A raid on the farm home of Sophus Sorenson, near Kenmare, conducted last Friday by Sheriff and federal officers, resulted in the confiscation of 52 quarts of beer and one gallon of moonshine, it was announced today by Sheriff A. S. Spicher. This is the third raid within the past few months to be made on the Sorenson farm, and in each instance authorities claim that they have found liquor.

The finish is white enamel, the general appearance being one of healthful cleanliness and the well known slogan of quality-grocer is emphasized in the new location.

Poseley, Oil Man, Gets Promotion

F. C. Poseley, local manager of the Sinclair Refining company for the past year, has been transferred to Fargo to take charge of the Fargo-Moorhead branch, according to an announcement by the management of the company. The transfer is in the nature of a promotion. Mr. Poseley has been engaged in the oil business for the past six or seven years. While he will leave his headquarters in Fargo Mr. Poseley will still have general supervision of the local office. Joseph L. Kohler of Wing has been appointed to succeed Mr. Poseley in the Bismarck office. Mr. and Mrs. Poseley will leave the last of next week for Fargo where they will make their home while Mr. Kohler and his family will come to Bismarck in the near future.

Scientists Cure Sleeping-Sickness

Hamburg, Oct. 12.—Cures which strike the Congo natives as being more miraculous than those of biblical days are being performed on victims of sleeping sickness in Central Africa, according to Dr. Martin Mayer, of the Hamburg Tropical Institute, who was the first scientist to test a German remedy on sleeping sickness.

A German commission under the leadership of Dr. Klei is now in the tropical section of Africa applying the remedy. There are records of 170 Congo natives who have been treated. Only a few of these died, owing to brain and nerve complications. The others regained their strength, and declared they were as well as they ever had been. Dr. Mayer is of the opinion that science has found a remedy which will make it possible to develop much territory in the tropics which has hitherto been closed because of the danger of sleeping sickness.

New Grocery Building Ready For Occupancy

Carpenters, wood workers and painters have finished their work on the new E. A. Brown grocery at 140-5th Street. The building is of brick and cement, combining the most modern methods of construction. New shelving and the latest fixtures have been installed. The finish is white enamel, the general appearance being one of healthful cleanliness and the well known slogan of quality grocer is emphasized in the new location.

Poseley, Oil Man, Gets Promotion

F. C. Poseley, local manager of the Sinclair Refining company for the past year, has been transferred to Fargo to take charge of the Fargo-Moorhead branch, according to an announcement by the management of the company. The transfer is in the nature of a promotion. Mr. Poseley has been engaged in the oil business for the past six or seven years. While he will have his headquarters in Fargo, Mr. Poseley will still have general supervision of the local office. Joseph L. Kohler of Wing has been appointed to succeed Mr. Poseley in the Bismarck office. Mr. and Mrs. Poseley will leave the last of next week for Fargo where they will make their home while Mr. Kohler and his family will come to Bismarck in the near future.

The receivership administration of closed banks probably will be decentralized to the extent of having district offices in the state, under plans being worked out by L. R. Baird of Dickinson, named general receiver of all banks in the state, Dr. Baird said today. He is making his office here in the Bank of North Dakota building.

Under the policy of the general receiver, the number of men acting in the capacity of receivers of banks will be reduced as much as possible. In the case of two banks being closed in one town it is certain that the administration will be under one man, Mr. Baird said. He also contemplates appointing agents who will have charge of certain banks or be engaged in certain districts, who may be shifted from one part of the state to another if occasion demands.

The whole effort of the receivership, Mr. Baird said, will be to administer the affairs of the closed banks with as few men acting in the capacity of receiver as possible, and to gain efficiency.

Mr. Baird conferred here yesterday with L. B. Hanna, former Governor, on the matter of the administration of the closed banks.

Liggett Directs Legion Meeting

By NEA Service.
San Francisco, Oct. 12.—Directing arrangements for the American Legion's annual convention here Oct. 15-19 is Lieut. Gen. Hunter S. Liggett, general chairman of the meeting.

A citizen of San Francisco and a military leader beloved of the millions of men who served overseas, General Liggett is conceded a place among the great military geniuses of the world. It was he that broke through the German lines that had existed for three years and then pushed through to Sedan, cutting off the crown prince's retreat and forcing the signing of the armistice.

General Liggett planned and executed what is regarded as the greatest piece of major tactics performed by the American army—the turning movement of the 82d division. This cleared the Argonne forest and brought relief to the "Lost Battalion." Largely on this account he was promoted to lieutenant general and given command of the First American army, consisting of 1,200,000 men and 5,000 guns, the biggest field command of any man in history.

Third Raid On Farm Home Brings 52 Quarts Liquor

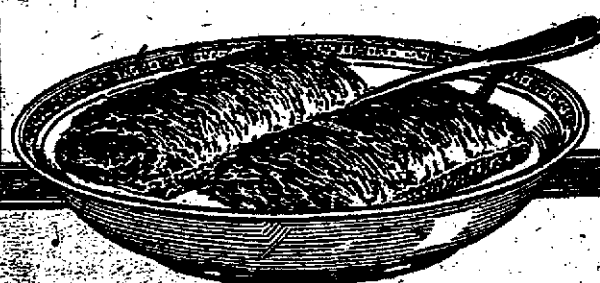

Minot, Oct. 12.—A raid on the farm home of Sophus Sorenson, near Kenmare, conducted last Friday by Sheriff and federal officers, resulted in the confiscation of 52 quarts of beer and one gallon of moonshine, it was announced today by Sheriff A. S. Spicher. This is the third raid within the past few months to be made on the Sorenson farm, and in each instance authorities claim that they have found liquor.

SUPPORT THE BOND ISSUE
It is essential that a large majority of citizens go to the polls tomorrow and support the bond issue so that the present plan can be secured without delay. There seems to be no question but that the issue will meet with emphatic approval as did the previous one, but indifference is a dangerous thing and all those who desire a final solution of this vexatious issue should not fail to cast their vote.

The city because of this election does not propose to spend more money. In fact some $30,000 has been eliminated in the distribution system as originally laid out. The sole purpose of the election is to change slightly the scheme of financing the project made necessary because of the bond houses refusing to accept special assessment warrants until formal transfer was made of the water plant to the city and assessment spread.

This complication in financing delayed the transfer, but with the bond issue available attorneys for the city declare that but a short period will elapse before the city can have funds to make payment upon the present plant.

By issuing less in special assessment warrants and more in bonds, the city officials believe there will be a saving in interest. Attorneys for the city report that these bonds will be sold as promises to that effect were made when Twin City bond houses advised a second election and a change in the scheme of financing. Do your duty—get out and vote to settle the water controversy for all time.

Put it over by a bigger majority than the first election. It is not a political issue—not the commission's fight, but a matter that vitally affects every resident of Bismarck. There should be no slackers.

THE LEAGUE CONVENTION

The Nonpartisan League state convention has ended here without presenting any concrete issues which may be expected to rise to the forefront in the next campaign. From this point the decision of most interest perhaps was that the league decided to be in the campaign, and on the same lines as in the past. The convention decided to divorce itself from the National Nonpartisan League executive committee, but this was much like a wife divorcing herself from a husband who had deserted her. The league is free to receive back the old leaders or to take on new affiliates. The convention decided to establish a state organ, a weekly newspaper. In this discussion, and in the presentation of the results of the effort to secure money for a daily newspaper, the league received conclusive evidence of the difficulty of raising the great amount of money needed to publish a daily newspaper, and especially one bound hand and foot to a political organization. In establishing a state weekly organ, it is delivering a blow at the league farmer weeklies who have fought the battles and is inviting again the dissection which grew out of the control of the old Courier-News.

The compromise resolution in which the league decided to sever all relations with the old national executive committee appears to be inconclusive. The one faction was bent on reading A. C. Townley and William Lemke and all associated with them out of the league. This they did not do. They declared themselves satisfied with the compromise as a concession to their views. The factional fight within the league, however, has not been merely against Townley and Lemke; it has been against any aggressive, constituted authority in power in the league. There is within the organization that spirit of dissatisfaction and protest against the order of things which makes it difficult for leadership to secure and maintain undivided support. It is possible that the harmony pledges of the league convention may bring harmony; or bickerings of the past which have followed each pledge of harmony may again break out.

The Nonpartisan League, as a political factor, has a long path to travel in reaching power again. Its leaders know this and generally admit it. Nor is there in evidence at this time the specific program on which they may build toward power in the state. The present state administration is attacked as reactionary, yet it is maintaining the Bank of North Dakota, the Grand Forks and Drake mills and making farm loans—doing more on the original league program than the league itself has done. The league may have for issues many plans of far-flung state action in the field of banking and credit, but such proposals as have already arisen lack popular appeal, are so visionary that they do not capture solid support even among the leaguers in convention; and it may be assumed that the voters of the state while they are paying out hard money in taxes to support grandiose schemes which have not been successful, will be slow to leap very far into new fields in the immediate future.

FORTUNE AWAITS

What's the best seat in a theater? Showmen, interviewed, agree that the fourth row on the aisle is the best seat in the house. In this seat the actors' voices are most natural and the distance is ideal for the illusions of stagecraft.

Despite all this, ticket sellers say the public prefers the front row. A fortune awaits the man who can invent a theater with all seats first row on the aisle.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Roberts Barton

Miszez Duck and Mister Drake and all their fat children were swimming on the pond. It was a glorious day for ducks, raining like everything. "My! My!" quacked Miszez Duck. "I never felt so good in my life! God anything be nicer?" And she ducked her head under the water and kicked up her yellow heels, almost turning a complete somersault.

"Did you get anything?" asked her husband, swimming up close to see if he had missed something good to eat.

Yes, some kind of a worm in the mud at the bottom," said Miszez Duck loudly. At that all the chickens looked sadder than ever, for there weren't any bugs or worms where they were, and it was too wet for them to go out and scratch. Every inch of Squeaky-Moo Land was flooded.

Now, there was one person who was as cross as a multiplication mark. He either liked to be awfully wet or awfully dry, and such things as rain storms he had no use for at all! When the sun was out nice and hot, he would sit on a log and roast himself and snap at flies and have a regular party all by himself. It was old Money Mud-Turtle, who was under the very spot where the duck family was showing off. He was trying to settle his nerves by taking a nap.

When Miszez Duck dived she woke him up, for her bill wasn't two inches from the end of his nose. "Well, of all cheeky things!" he snapped, sticking his head out of his shell and looking around.

"It's those ducks!" he declared. "If they come meddling around me again I'll have to teach them to hunt on their own premises and let other people's property alone."

At that very minute Mister Drake not to be outdone by his wife, dived down with his long yellow bill.

And old Money Mud-Turtle made a grab and caught him by the neck. "Help! Help! Help!" quacked Miszez Duck in dismay. "Won't one of you chickens run and fetch somebody?"

Just then the Twins came by with Mister Dodger, under a big umbrella. "I'll get him," called the fairy-man, "but next time you make fun of people, Miszez Duck, don't ask them to do you a favor."

LETTER FROM MRS. JOSEPH GRAVES HAMILTON TO MRS. JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT.

MY DEAR DAUGHTER:
I read in the paper this morning of the disappearance of a man by the name of Harry Ellington. Is he the husband of that pretty little friend of yours? I am quite sure he must be, for the papers say he was a broker and speak of his wife as having the name of Ruth.

Oh, I am so sorry for her, but I never did like him. I thought he was a scoundrel from the first time I saw him. I never could see just what Jack found in him that made him so friendly with him. I hope that Jack wasn't concerned in any of his dealings.
Your father expressed the same thing tonight. It seems that he, too, had warned Jack against Ellington, who had not had a very good name among stock brokers for some time. Your father said that young men are very apt to want to make money rapidly and that Ellington seemed quite a plausible fellow, consequently he might have envied Jack some of his schemes. He dismissed the subject, however, by saying that he was sure Jack had too much common sense. I told him that Jack had too much love for you to risk the money that was needed for you and little Jack in some stock gambling operation.

If you can do it without hurting her any more than she is already hurt will you please convey my greatest sympathy to Ruth Ellington. She did not look happy when I was there, and although she probably is better off now that he is gone, yet it always injures woman's pride quite as much as it hurts her love when the world knows that some other woman means more to her husband than she herself.

America Cleaned Up One Of World's Great Plague Spots In Aid To Russia, Says Haskell

L. R. CYRIL J. QUINN OF SAGINAW MICH. ASST. DIRECTOR OF THE RUSSIAN UNIT OF THE A.R.A. COL. HASKELL, DIRECTOR, and ELMER G. BURLAND OF BERKELEY, CAL. WHO AS CHIEF OF THE REMITTANCE DIVISION, A.R.A. IN RUSSIA CONTROLLED THE DELIVERY OF FOOD AND CLOTHING PACKAGES

America's work in Russia cleaned up one of the great plague spots of the world, according to Col. William N. Haskell, director of the Russian Unit of the American Relief Administration, who landed recently in New York with the last of the Americans who had been with him in Moscow.

"Russia, when we went in, was more than a famine country," he said. "It was a disease focus. Famine could have been confined to Russia, but typhus and cholera knew no man-made boundaries. I am not sure that the medical work accomplished by the American Relief Administration has not saved even more lives than the feeding of more than ten million Russians."

"Aside from vast areas where there was actual starvation and the prompt arrival of American food saved the population from being wiped out, diseases borne by refugees fleeing from famine districts had spread throughout the country. Hospitals were overcrowded, their supplies and equipment almost all because of years of war; water supplies polluted and sewer systems broken down, and everything disorganized. Every filthy freight car, crowded with refugees, was a breeding place for typhus-bearing vermin. In some cities corpses lay unburied in the streets and hundreds of bodies were piled in cellars of hospitals. And Russia was threatening her neighbors with contagion."

"When Gorky and the patriarch, Tikhon appealed to the world for aid in the summer of 1921, and Herbert Hoover offered through the American Relief Administration to feed a million Russian children, we never dreamed that before we finished America would be called upon to feed nearly ten and a half million children and adults. And even then Milk More Cows. It is folly to talk of "morale" as a remedy. That is not anything that one can eat. It does not pay interest and it does not equalize there is equity. The carriers claim 6 per cent net profits. They say the law allows it and the courts award it. The banks, coal barons, big trusts, meat packers, fostered industries, tin plate kings, automobile kings and all the exploiters do make their millions. They capture from 12 to 50, or 100 per cent net profits. They fleece the farmer and leave him no profits—no return for his capital and hard work. Our first tin plate king, died, leaving 50 millions, fished from the wealth producers; now his widow dies in Greece in the arms of royalty, leaving $36,000,000 of the captured wealth. So it is with all the big filchers who prey upon the producers and toilers. Why not wake up, organize and do something. Why not buy and read Wrongs and Remedies. It is the only book thus far written and published by a justice of the North Dakota supreme court.

JUDGE ROBINSON.

STATEMENT OF THE OWNERSHIP, MANAGEMENT, CIRCULATION, ETC., REQUIRED BY THE ACT OF CONGRESS OF AUGUST 24, 1912.
Of Bismarck Tribune published daily at Bismarck, North Dakota, for October 1, 1923.
STATE OF NORTH DAKOTA, County of Burleigh.
Before me, a Notary in and for the State and county aforesaid, personally appeared Geo. D. Mann, who, having been duly sworn according to law, deposes and says that he is the Publisher of the Bismarck Tribune and that the following is, to the best of his knowledge and belief, a true statement of the ownership, management (and if a daily paper, the circulation), etc., of the aforesaid publication for the date shown in the above caption, required by the Act of August 24, 1912, embodied in section 465 of the Postal Laws and Regulations, printed on the reverse of this form, to wit:

1. That the names and addresses of the publisher, editor, managing editor, and business manager are: Publisher, Geo. D. Mann, Bismarck, N. D.
Editor, Wm. S. Neal, Bismarck, N. D.
Managing Editor, Geo. D. Mann, Bismarck, N. D.
Business Manager, Geo. D. Mann, Bismarck, N. D.

2. That the owners are: (Give names and addresses of individual owners, or, if a corporation, give its name and the names and addresses of stockholders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of the total amount of stock.)
Geo. D. Mann, President, Bismarck, N. D.
Beatrice Mann, Secretary and Treasurer, Bismarck, N. D.
Mrs. A. J. Osterberg, Vice-President, Bismarck, N. D.
3. That the known bondholders, mortgagees, and other security holders owning or holding 1 per cent or more of total amount of bonds, mortgages, or other securities are: Northern Trust Co., Fargo, North Dakota.

4. That the two paragraphs next above, giving the names of the owners, stockholders, and security holders, if any, contain not only the list of stockholders and security holders as they appear upon the books of the company but also, in cases where the stockholder or security holder appears upon the books of the company as trustee or in any other fiduciary relation, the name of the person or corporation for whom such trustee is acting, if any; also that the said two paragraphs contain statements embracing affiant's full knowledge and belief as to the circumstances and conditions under which stockholders and security holders who do not appear upon the books of the company as trustees, hold stock and securities in a capacity other than that of a bona fide owner; and this affiant has no reason to believe that any other person, association, or corporation has any interest direct or indirect in the said stock, bonds, or other securities than as so stated by him.

5. That the average number of copies of each issue of this publication sold or distributed through the mails or otherwise, to paid subscribers during the six months preceding the date shown above is 3,225.

Dr. Francis Speaks At Church Tonight

Dr. George E. Francis, well known preacher and orator from Indiana, will deliver an address upon "The Monarchy of Public Opinion" instead of "A Hundred Per Cent Americanism" as first announced, tonight at the Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock. This is the first number of the Lyceum course which is being brought to Bismarck by the Women's Community Council.

Dr. Francis has held the pastorate of some of the largest churches of his denomination in Indiana. Those who have heard him assert that he is a magnetic speaker and holds his audience enthralled throughout. Miss Moser will give a pipe organ selection and Mrs. Schoelkopf will sing a solo.

Interesting Program Given by Delphians

At the opening of the Alpha Eta chapter of the Delphian society this morning at the McKenna hotel Mrs. O. A. Olson gave a short talk upon the rules of parliamentary law. This was followed with a report by Mrs. F. A. Lahr of the advisory board.

Mrs. E. P. Quain, chairman of the civic committee, gave the first preparatory lecture of a series of twelve on the use of the ballot. Following the preliminary part of the meeting the regular program was given. The Delphians meet the second and fourth Fridays of each month in the Rotary room of the McKenna hotel at 9:30 o'clock in the morning.

Dr. Ruediger Accepts Position in West

Dr. E. H. Ruediger has resigned his position with the Bismarck hospital to accept a position as pathologist to the Angeles hospital at Los Angeles, Calif., one of the oldest and largest hospitals in that city. Dr. and Mrs. Ruediger expect to leave for the coast the latter part of this month in order that the doctor may assume his duties in his new position Nov. 1. One of the attractions of the Angeles hospital to Dr. Ruediger is its connection with the University of California.

Dr. Ruediger came to Bismarck seven years ago, and Mrs. Ruediger came here three years ago as a bride from San Diego, Calif. Her home was in Omaha, Nebr.

Large Crowd Enjoys St. Mary's Band

A large crowd attended the first of the series of concerts to be given by members of St. Mary's Juvenile band at St. Mary's auditorium last night. The program which was appropriate and well selected for the boys proved delightful to the audience. Intermingled with the band numbers were chorus selections and violin and piano numbers. The band membership has reached a total of 25 up to the present time.

Father Slag's boys were highly praised for the advancement they had shown in their music. In addition to the local talent two piano and violin numbers were given by Miss Lampe and her brother, Alphonse who are graduates of a European conservatory of music.

Americanization Is Discussed at Club; Plea For Orphans

"Americanization" was taken up at the meeting of the Current Events club Wednesday at their meeting at the home of Mrs. Mary McLean of the Rose apartments. Mrs. John Larson spoke on "Americanization through Music" and Mrs. Alfred Zuger discussed "The Year's Progress in Illiteracy."

Reports were also given by Mrs. Zuger and Mrs. George Register on the meeting of the Federated Clubs at Jamestown, Mrs. Zuger presenting the business side of the meeting while Mrs. Register reviewed the social side.

At the conclusion of the reports Mrs. Zuger made a plea for toys, victrola records, and clothing for the children in the Hilltop orphanage at Beirut, Syria in which Alma K. Kerr of Bismarck, near East Relief worker, is engaged in relief work. Such boxes are greatly appreciated by the children in the orphanage. Mrs. Zuger said that the children are so proud of the articles which they receive from their friends in America.

Those who have anything to give are asked to mark their bundle with their name and address in order that the children in the orphanage may write their benefactors letters of thanks. Anyone wishing to have their bundles called for are asked to telephone Mrs. Zuger at 814 and she will call for them.

At the conclusion of the business meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

K. of C. Will Banquet At Lewis & Clark

The Mandan members of the Bismarck Council of the Knights of Columbus will entertain members of the Mandan and Bismarck organizations at a banquet at the Lewis and Clark hotel this evening. A number of speeches and musical numbers appear on the program for the evening. It is expected that about 75 will attend from Bismarck. Father Slag and John Sullivan of Mandan will both deliver addresses upon Columbus and the discovery of America.

ODD FELLOWS REBEKAH DANCE. Bismarck Canton No. 5, P. M. I. O. O. F., will give the 2nd dance of their series Saturday night at Odd Fellows hall corner Main and Third street. Invitations are being sent out.

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs do not require invitations, visiting Odd Fellows and Rebekahs welcome.

Honors at cards were won by Mrs. J. I. Hyeck. The club will meet again in a month at the home of Mrs. W. G. Black.

MISS SAND RETURNS

Miss Sarah Sand, R. N., has returned to her former position as instructor of the Bismarck Hospital training school for nurses. Miss Sand served over Seas with Base Hospital 60 in the advanced Sector of the Lorraine, of which Col. Quain was chief surgeon.

Since Miss Sand returned to the U. S. A. she was Supervisor of Health Courses for the Red Cross for a year, and for the last three years she was Home and School visitor for the Board of Education, City Schools of Fargo.

GUEST AT ROBERTS HOME. Benton Warner of Chicago, Ill., is a guest at the home of his niece, Mrs. O. W. Roberts. This is the second year that Mr. Warner has come to Bismarck for the hunting season. He said that though only a year had elapsed since his last visit to the city, he had noticed that a number of new homes had been built since his last visit.

ELECT OFFICERS. Donald Thompson was elected president of the T. B. class of the Junior High school at William Moore when officers were elected this week. Dorothea Gutman was elected vice president, Vernon Vrsal, secretary.

and Robert Paria, treasurer. Miss Rita Murphy is teacher of the class.

VISITING SISTERS.

Mrs. Anna C. Schroeder of Me. Clusky, who has been a guest at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Poesley of Bismarck and her sister, Mrs. E. E. Percy of Mandan for the past week will return to her home Sunday.

U. C. T. AUXILIARY MEETING. The U. C. T. Auxiliary will meet Saturday night at Elks hall. All members are urged to be out at this time as plans for the Halloween dance will be discussed at this time.

HALLOWEEN DANCE. The Women's Benefit Association of the Macabees will give a Halloween card party at Elks hall Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Everybody is cordially invited to attend.

DANCE AT BUSINESS COLLEGE. The students of the Bismarck Business college will give a dance this evening at the Business College. All members are invited to attend.

Dr. Francis Speaks At Church Tonight

Dr. George E. Francis, well known preacher and orator from Indiana, will deliver an address upon "The Monarchy of Public Opinion" instead of "A Hundred Per Cent Americanism" as first announced, tonight at the Presbyterian church at 8 o'clock. This is the first number of the Lyceum course which is being brought to Bismarck by the Women's Community Council.

Dr. Francis has held the pastorate of some of the largest churches of his denomination in Indiana. Those who have heard him assert that he is a magnetic speaker and holds his audience enthralled throughout. Miss Moser will give a pipe organ selection and Mrs. Schoelkopf will sing a solo.

Interesting Program Given by Delphians

At the opening of the Alpha Eta chapter of the Delphian society this morning at the McKenzie hotel Mrs. O. A. Olson gave a short talk upon the rules of parliamentary law. This was followed with a report by Mrs. F. A. Lahr of the advisory board.

Mrs. E. P. Quain, chairman of the civic committee, gave the first preparatory lecture of a series of twelve on the use of the ballot. Following the preliminary part of the meeting the regular program was given. The Delphians meet the second and fourth Fridays of each month in the Rotary room of the McKenzie hotel at 9:30 o'clock in the morning.

Dr. Ruediger Accepts Position in West

Dr. E. H. Ruediger has resigned his position with the Bismarck hospital to accept a position as pathologist at the Angeles hospital at Los Angeles, Calif., one of the oldest and largest hospitals in that city. Dr. and Mrs. Ruediger expect to leave for the coast the latter part of this month in order that the doctor may assume his duties in his new position Nov. 1. One of the attractions of the Angeles hospital to Dr. Ruediger is its connection with the University of California.

Dr. Ruediger came to Bismarck seven years ago, and Mrs. Ruediger came here three years ago as a bride from San Diego, Calif. Her home was in Omaha, Nebr.

Large Crowd Enjoys St. Mary's Band

A large crowd attended the first of the series of concerts to be given by members of St. Mary's juvenile band at St. Mary's auditorium last night. The program which was appropriate and well selected for the boys proved delightful to the audience. Intermingled with the band numbers were chorus selections and violin and piano numbers. The band membership has reached a total of 35 up to the present time.

Father Slag's boys were highly praised for the advancement they had shown in their music. In addition to the local talent two piano and violin numbers were given by Miss Lampe and her brother, Alphonse who are graduates of a European conservatory of music.

Americanization Is Discussed at Club; Plea For Orphans

"Americanization" was taken up at the meeting of the Current Events club Wednesday at their meeting at the home of Mrs. Mary McLean of the Rose apartments. Mrs. John Larson spoke on "Americanization through Music" and Mrs. Alfred Zuger discussed "The Year's Progress in Illiteracy."

Reports were also given by Mrs. Zuger and Mrs. George Register on the meeting of the Federated clubs at Jamestown, Mrs. Zuger presenting the business side of the meeting while Mrs. Register reviewed the social side.

At the conclusion of the reports Mrs. Zuger made a plea for toys, victrola records, and clothing for the children in the Hilltop orphanage at Beirut, Syria in which Alma K. Kerr of Bismarck, near East Relief worker, is engaged in relief work. Such boxes are greatly appreciated by the children in the orphanage. Mrs. Zuger said, and the children are so proud of the articles which they receive from their friends in America.

Those who have anything to give are asked to mark their bundle with their name and address in order that the children in the orphanage may write their benefactors letters of thanks. Anyone wishing to have their bundles called for are asked to telephone Mrs. Zuger at 814 and she will call for them.

At the conclusion of the business meeting refreshments were served by the hostess.

K. of C. Will Banquet At Lewis & Clark

The Mandan members of the Bismarck Council of the Knights of Columbus will entertain members of the Mandan and Bismarck organizations at a banquet at the Lewis and Clark hotel this evening. A number of speeches and musical numbers appear on the program for the evening. It is expected that about 75 will attend from Bismarck. Father Slag and John Sullivan of Mandan will both deliver addresses upon Columbus and the discovery of America.

ODD FELLOWS REBEKAH DANCE. Bismarck Canton No. 5, P. M. I. O. F. will give the 2nd dance of their series Saturday night at Odd Fellows hall corner Main and Third street. Invitations are being sent out.

Odd Fellows and Rebekahs do not require invitations, visiting Odd Fellows and Rebekahs welcome.

Decorations, suggestive of Halloween were used, and the table appointments were in colors of orange and black. Honors at cards were won by Mrs. J. I. Huyck. The club will meet again in a month at the home of Mrs. W. G. Black.

MISS SAND RETURNS. Miss Sarah Sand, R. N., has returned to her former position as instructor of the Bismarck Hospital training school for nurses. Miss Sand served over Seas with Base Hospital 60 in the advanced Sector of the Lorraine, of which Col. Quain was chief surgeon.

Since Miss Sands returned to the U. S. A. she was Supervisor of Health Courses for the Red Cross for a year, and for the last three years she was Home and School visitor for the Board of Education, City Schools of Fargo.

GUEST AT ROBERTS HOME. Benton Warner of Chicago, Ill., is a guest at the home of his niece, Mrs. O. W. Roberts. This is the second year that Mr. Warner has come to Bismarck for the hunting season. He said that though only a year had elapsed since his last visit to the city, he had noticed that a number of new homes had been built since his last visit.

ELECT OFFICERS. Donald Thompson was elected president of the 7B class of the Junior High school at William Moore when officers were elected this week. Dorothea Gutman was elected vice president, Vernon Vrzal, secretary.

and Robert Paris, treasurer. Miss Rita Murphy is teacher of the class.

VISITING SISTERS. Mrs. Anna C. Schroeder of McClusky, who has been a guest at the home of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Poseley of Bismarck and her sister, Mrs. E. E. Percy of Mandan for the past week will return to her home Sunday.

U. C. T. AUXILIARY MEETING. The U. C. T. Auxiliary will meet Saturday night at Elks hall. All members are urged to be out at this time as plans for the Halloween dance will be discussed at this time.

YANKEES TAKE HEART AFTER RUTH'S WORK

Two Home Runs in Second Game of Series Hearten the Yankee Team

SITUATION REVERSED

New York, Oct. 12.—Babe Ruth crossed with mighty tread yesterday the threshold of world's series glory that has been barred to him for two years.

During out two thundering home run thrusters in successive innings, a feat unparalleled in championship baseball history, Ruth was the dynamo in the powerful attack that enabled the New York Yankees to turn the tables on the Giants, capture the second game of the series by a score of 4 to 2 and square the count with the world's title holders in the 1923 struggle for diamond supremacy.

Two in two innings. First up in the fourth inning, with the score tied at one each, the great slugger put the Yankees into the lead with a terrific, towering blow that landed atop the second tier of the right field grandstand and started the "downfall of Hugh McQuillan, Giant ace. Another run was scored in the fifth inning, but on his next turn to bat, in the fifth, the babe crashed one of Jack Bentley's southpaw slants into the lower right field stands. That blow was the climax of the game; Yankee victory was clinched then and therefore it proved merely a formality to carry on to the finish.

It was a spectacular triumph for the Yankees whose punch master John McGraw's strategy and gave them the first world's series victory they have known since the fifth game of the 1921 championship—a span over which eight defeats and one tie have been the disastrous portion of the American League champions. It was a brilliant day for Herb Pennock, fragile left hander, who twirled the Giants into submission in masterful fashion, and Joe Dugan, fleet footed third sacker, whose marvelous defensive play brought him repeatedly into the limelight.

Triumph for Babe. But, over and above the mere outcome of the game, the brilliant cogs that fitted into the winning Yankee machine, it was the day for Ruth, baseball's star of stars, who had come into his own and found the end of the rainbow of world's series fame for which he had sought before in vain. True, Babe earned his spurs as a pitcher, hanging up a record of 29 scoreless innings in championship play that still stands, but it was batting laurels that the greatest home run hitter of all time was seeking and he gained them today. No matter what he does the rest of the series, his place among series immortals is secure.

Thus it was a triumph even greater for Ruth than for the Yankees; the ascendancy of brute force, the power of the wallop over the tactical genius of John McGraw, baseball's "master mind." For behind the struggle for premier diamond honors from the start has been the greatest drama of all—the matching of Ruth's dynamic individuality against the strategy of the grey haired, silent leader of the Giants.

Ruth Against McGraw. Two years ago, Ruth was handicapped in the series by injuries; last year he was a "bust," out-pitched, baffled by the tactics of the "Little Napoleon." But tonight he is a triumphant figure, a vital force that upset with sheer might the best laid calculations of his opponent. And knowing the confidence that his great achievement yesterday has inspired, he may prove the deciding factor in the outcome of the third straight battle between Gotham's rival clubs and spoil McGraw's goal of a third successive championship.

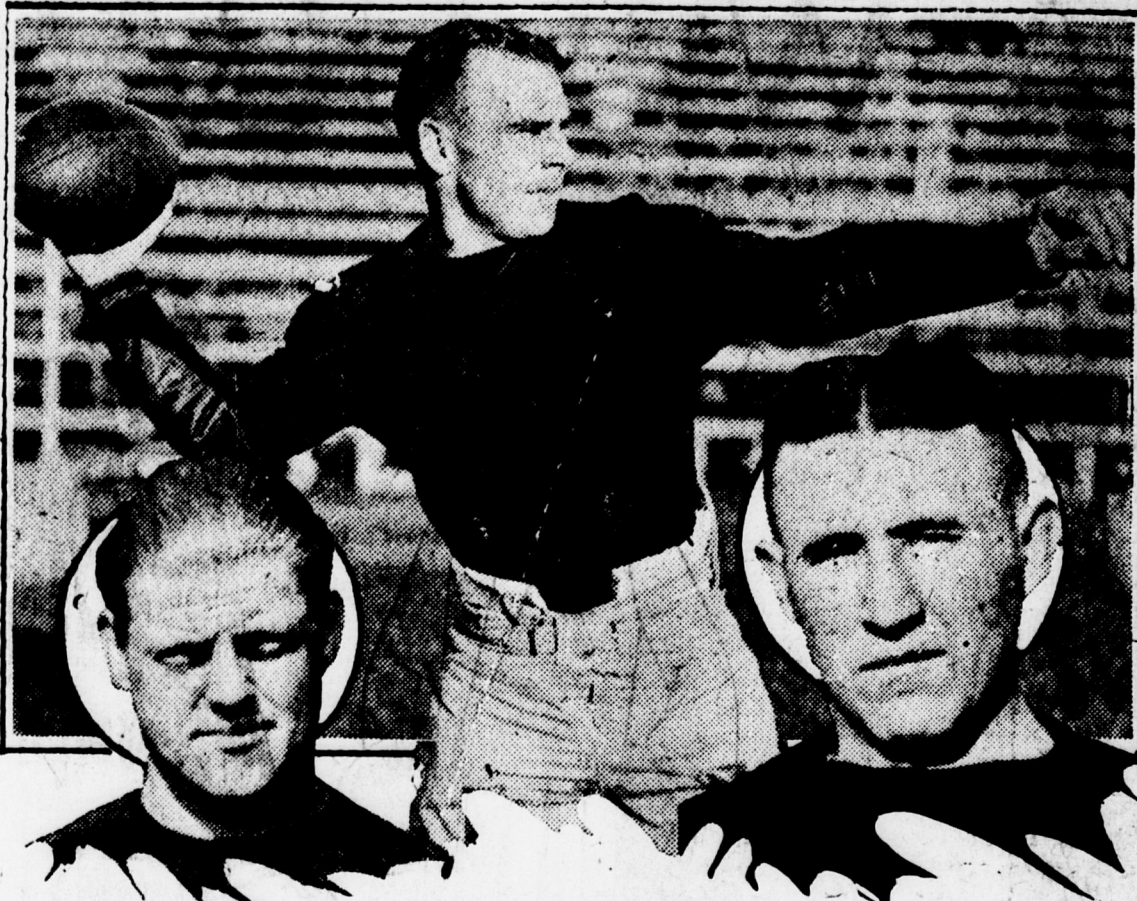

Ruth's feat of two home runs in a single world's series game has been done thrice in two decades of championship history, but in none of these instances were the circuit blazes in the third and fourth successive times at bat. E. H. Doughterty, of the Boston Americans, was the first to accomplish the trick, in 1903. It was duplicated in 1915, by Harry Hooper, also of the Boston Americans, who drove out home runs in the third and ninth innings of the fifth game of the series with the Philadelphia Nationals; and again in 1917, by Benny Knauff of the Giants, who hit for the circuit in the fourth and eighth innings of the fourth game of the series with the Chicago White Sox.

Giants Miss Chances. The first day the story of victory was one of Giant smartness, alertness and generalship, plus the decisive ninth inning home run of Casey Stengel. Yesterday the situation was reversed, and it was punch, typified by Ruth, that decided the issue. And the Yankees won, because they carried their brains in their bats.

The first day it was the Yankee who knocked off, but could not open, the door of opportunity; the second day it was a tale of missed chances by the Giants, though they were fewer than their opponents had in the opening game.

ARMY'S MAIN GRID HOPES

HEWITT

MULLIGAN

With Notre Dame, Yale and the Navy on their schedule, not to forget Arkansas and Alabama, good teams from the south, the West Point Cadets are in for a rugged season. Fortunately Captain McEwen, coach, seems to have a formidable squad of footballers. Eastern experts look for the army stars to have one of their greatest years. In Captain Mulligan the Army has a great tackler. Quarterback Smythe has few equals in the east. Garbush, All-American center of last year, is still his tremendously effective self and the acquisition of Hewitt, former Pittsburg line demolisher, has given the Cadets a fullback of extraordinary ability.

B. H. S. ENTERS FRAY AGAINST MANDAN HIGH

First Southwestern District Title Game of Locals Is Saturday in Mandan

HOUSER MEN FAVORED

Bismarck plays Mandan tomorrow! This is the signal for a general fever of excitement on both sides of the river. Bismarck and Mandan have two of the best high school eleven in the state this year, and the outcome of Saturday's battle will arouse much interest and speculation throughout the state. The game is scheduled to start on the Mandan field at 3 o'clock Mandan time. The contest promises to be one of the hardest fought games on either schedule. Coach Houser's warriors, who are bent on going a notch higher, than last year, will enter the fray as a slight favorite. Bismarck should win by at least one, if not two touchdowns, although Coach Reis of Mandan has a scrappy outfit, that is apt to show unexpected strength.

Dope Favors Locals. Bismarck has the advantage of a heavier and more experienced line, which has already shown its power in previous contests. Its defensive strength has been especially commendable, and this game should test the ability of the line on offense. Both eleven are possessed of a strong pair of ends, as well as a versatile backfield. Much will hinge on the success of the Bismarck aerial attack. Mandan, however, will be on the guard for this phase of attack, and the Demons may be forced to resort to other means. The Mandan team will probably fall back on end runs for the majority of their gains, as they are especially adept in that line.

Mandan defeated Dickinson last Saturday, and a win over the Capital City eleven will give them a secure hold on the District championship, allowing Bismarck one more chance to tie the count by defeating Mandan in the game two weeks later. Mandan has the same chance if they lose to Bismarck, as has Dickinson, who meets the Houser-coached team next week. The Southwestern District is one week ahead of the rest of the state, as the strong teams in the other three districts are just winding up their preliminary schedule.

It is expected that a large number of Bismarck rooters will follow their team over to Mandan, as is the custom every year. The return game will be staged on the Bismarck gridiron October 27th.

A bear story came out of Mandan today. It was to the effect that Arthur, right-end, and Gussner,

HARRY WILLS WINS BOUT

New York, Oct. 12.—Harry Wills, negro heavyweight of New York, last night knocked out Homer Smith of Kalamazoo, Mich., in the second round of a 15-round match in the Queensborough Stadium, Long Island City.

NATIONALS BEAT SOX

Chicago, Oct. 12.—The National Leaguers made it two straight over the Americans in the Chicago city series yesterday when the Cubs won the second game from the Sox, 4 to 3.

Vic Aldridge pitched tight ball and was afforded brilliant support for seven innings, but after yielding two runs in the eighth and passing Mos-till, first up in the ninth, he was replaced by Gussner.

WAR FINANCE HEADS IN N.D.

Visit Fargo and Discuss Situation with Business Men

Fargo, Oct. 12.—Representative, bankers and farmers will meet with Eugene Meyer, managing director of the U. S. War Finance corporation, and Frank W. Mondell, associated with him on the directors in Fargo today to discuss agricultural relief measures. The two men were in Sioux Falls yesterday.

Messrs. Meyer and Mondell have been sent to the northwest by President Coolidge to study the situation on the farms first hand and the condition of business in this section resulting from the low farm product prices. The Fargo conference is one of several being held in the wheat growing states in the course of these gentlemen's tour. The officers of the North Dakota Bankers association have been asked to make arrangements for the local meeting.

The meeting will be held in the Gardner hotel and will be preceded by a luncheon for the distinguished visitors. In the evening they will be guests at the dinner given by the Great Northern Railway company officials here and it is expected that Mr. Meyer will be on the program for an address on that occasion.

5 DIE FROM BAD LIQUOR

Fusel Oil or Wood Alcohol Poisoning, Is Verdict

Pana, Ill., Oct. 12.—Five men are dead and three others are in a serious condition today after having drunk a quantity of poisonous liquor described as the "color of whiskey" in a soft-drink parlor here last Tuesday night.

Reports of other persons in neighboring towns having been poisoned by "white mule" were reaching this city today. An inquest was held yesterday afternoon over one of the bodies—the first to die—and the coroner's inquest returned the verdict of "fusel oil or wood alcohol, a poisonous substance, from beverage purchased of John Tokoly at Matons' place."

MANY DIE FROM LIQUOR

Chicago, Oct. 12.—Poison is found in eight of every 10 samples of liquor taken in raids on saloons and soft drink parlors and analyzed, according to Dr. Herman Bundesen, city health commissioner. The statement was issued as Mayor Dever revoked the 1,000th retail beverage license in the city's campaign against prohibition law violators, which has resulted in more than 1,000 additional places closing voluntarily. Poison liquor has killed at least 2,000 persons in the United States thus far this year, or six times as many as died from small-pox in 1920, according to Dr. Bundesen.

MISS COOK TO HEAD LIBRARY

Chosen Director of North Dakota Library Commission

Miss Lillian E. Cook library of the Minot Normal has been appointed director of the state library commission, state capital, to succeed Miss Mary Downey, resigned. Miss Cook will assume the position on November 1 or as soon thereafter as possible.

Miss Cook is a graduate of the University of Wisconsin and the Wisconsin library school. She formerly was city librarian at Valley City and Grand Forks, and was with the Minnesota Library Commission as head of the traveling library department. She left that work in December, 1922, to accept the charge of the Minot Normal library.

R. B. Murphy, chairman of the board of administration, said that Miss Cook's experience, particularly in the library field work, as well as ability displayed in the past, made her appointment seem particularly desirable.

Miss Downey resigned to accept a position as librarian at Denison University, Granville, O. Miss Mary Kethercutt, her assistant, who had been mentioned for the place, was not an applicant.

FORD'S NAME NOT WITHDRAWN

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 12.—A letter received yesterday at Lincoln, by Secretary of State Pool, from Henry Ford's general secretary, E. G. Liebhold, responding to a communication from Mr. Pool notifying Mr. Ford that unless his name were withdrawn it would be placed on the Nebraska presidential preference primary, contained no rejection of a filing of a petition to make Mr. Ford a candidate for the progressive party, a special dispatch to the Omaha World-Herald said.

Pioneer Resident Of Minot Is Dead

Minot, Oct. 12.—Thomas Johnson, 72, one of Minot's oldest citizens, died last week of hemorrhage of the brain.

He moved to Minot in 1898 where he had since made his home. He was proprietor of a livery barn from 1898 to 1908 on the site now occupied by the 500 freight depot and also had various farming interests.

STAR KICKER

JOE "RED" DUNN

Marquette University of Milwaukee last year went through the season without having its goal line crossed. One of the big stars on the eleven was Joe "Red" Dunn, quarterback. This year Joe "Red" is captain and is expected to star again. Joe "Red" is a great kicker and a three-threat man. Marquette's big games are with University of Vermont and Boston College.

OBSERVANCE OF T. R., NAVY DAY IS ADVOCATED

Governor Issues Proclamation Calling for Action on October 27

Governor Nestos has issued the following proclamation urging observance of Roosevelt Day and Navy Day:

"Theodore Roosevelt was born on October 27, 1858, and has left an indelible impression upon the people of our time by his high ideals, his noble character, his fine personality, his great influence, and his faithful service to his country both in the presidency and as our most distinguished private citizen. It is well for us to renew our faith in and devotion to the great ideals and traits he exemplified and to implant in the minds and hearts of the rising generation a love for those same ideals and a determination to realize them in their own lives and in the life of the community, state, and nation.

"The thoughtful consideration of the lives and labors of our great men, and of the history of the institutions that have helped to mold our national life, is of great value in making this generation, and those who are to become the governing power of the future, better and more intelligent citizens.

"Whereas, October twenty-seventh has also been designated and will be observed throughout the country as Navy Day, and a request has been made that the services of the navy, in shaping our history, promoting our national ideals, and in maintaining peace and tranquility at home and abroad, be considered by our people.

"NOW, THEREFORE, I, R. A. Nestos, Governor of the state of North Dakota by the authority in me vested,

ANOTHER MINNEAPOLIS MAN REPORTS BIG GAIN

"When it comes to building a man up and making him feel right, Tan-lac is a 'headliner,'" is the characteristic statement made recently by Harry Pink, 2836 Chicago avenue, Minneapolis, Minn., that congenial gentleman to whom everyone hands their ticket on entering the Palace theater. Mr. Pink is a veteran theatrical man, having spent forty years in vaudeville and "Old Time Variety" shows.

"For a long time my appetite and digestion refused to act and what

I would eat caused gas pains, sourness and palpitation. Headaches and nervousness broke up my rest and I got so played out that I could hardly do my turn on the stage. "Since taking Tanlac I have gained thirty pounds and feel like a new man. A wonderful appetite, good digestion, sound sleep and fine health is what Tanlac has meant to me." Tanlac is for sale by all good druggists. Accept no substitute. Over 37-million bottles sold.

12 KILLED IN AN EXPLOSION

Moscow, Oct. 12.—At least 12 persons were killed and a score injured in an explosion today in a hunting goods store on the Neplami Prospekt, one of the principal streets of Moscow. Two buildings were shattered by the shock and debris and exploding cartridges and cartridge belts were hurled among passersby. Above the store crowded apartments were located.

League Paper Incorporated

Articles of incorporation for the North Dakota Nonpartisan Publishing Company, main office Bismarck, were filed in the office of the Secretary of State last yesterday. Capital stock is placed at $25,000 and the incorporators are John H. Bloom, Fargo; Minnie D. Craig, Esmond; Pat C. Kelly, Dickinson; R. W. Frazier, Crosby; and S. S. McDonald, Bismarck.

It is proposed to publish the state organ of the Nonpartisan League through this corporation.

The incorporation was filed yesterday as a stock company but today changed to a cooperative company, with the same capital stock, and shares fixed at a value of $1 each.

The articles were filed as a means of starting the organization and Bismarck was named as the chief place of business. It was said by incorporators that the incorporation might be changed and the place of business fixed at some other city.

Mexican Ring Champ Wants Recognition

TOMMY WHITE

Now that your old Uncle Sammie has decided to recognize Mexico, Mr. Tommy White, battler, wants and demands recognition at the same time. It so happens that Thomas holds the lightweight and junior welterweight championships of Mexico. Thomas thinks he is hot stuff and ardently desires a go or tussle, or even a brawl, with some of our American residents of cauliflower land.

DECISION OF SUPREME COURT From McIntosh County.

Walter Kruger, Plaintiff.
vs.
E. H. Maercklein and Chris Doekter, Defendants.

SYLLABUS:
Where upon impelling a jury, plaintiff's counsel has directed certain questions to a prospective juror which the trial court indicated to be improper under the pleadings, and where plaintiff's counsel thereupon sought to amend the complaint, and upon denial of the amendment, refused to further proceed with the cause, and where thereupon the trial court dismissed plaintiff's action with prejudice, it is held, for reasons stated in the opinion—

(a) That counsel having refused to submit proof in behalf of a cause of action as alleged in his original complaint is not in a position to predicate error upon the court's refusal to permit an amendment.

(b) That under the circumstances the trial court erred in dismissing plaintiff's cause of action with prejudice.

In District Court, McIntosh County, Allen J. Action for malpractice. From a judgment of dismissal with prejudice plaintiff has appealed.

MODIFIED AND AFFIRMED. Opinion of the Court by Bronson, Ch. J.

MANDAN NEWS

Heart Attack Fatal to Mr. Hammel

John Hammel, aged 30, passed away Wednesday evening at 10:30 following a heart attack. He had been suffering with heart trouble during the past few years since returning from Canada where he made his home for a number of years.

He is survived by one son, aged six, his wife having died in Canada a few years ago during the influenza epidemic. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Moser of this city.

He was well known here, having been employed as a brick mason by local contractors. Funeral services will be held Saturday morning from St. Joseph's church and burial will take place in the local Catholic cemetery.

The Paving of East Main street which was scheduled to begin Sept. 24 has been delayed because of delays in the arrival of certain machinery to be used in the work. During the intervening time preliminary work and the laying of curbs has been in progress. Pending the arrival of the heavy grading machinery to be used in the construction work the Woodrich Construction company has been engaged in preliminary curbing work on some of the streets which were not to have been paved until next spring.

Thomas H. Cannon, Chicago, high chief ranger of the national organization of the Catholic Order of Foresters, will pay an official visit to the Mandan lodge the early part of November. The new officers installed at the meeting Wednesday evening were: Robert Ford, chief ranger; Jacob Lockbeam, vice chief ranger; Henry S. Schulte, speaker; J. P. Knoll, secretary; John Tavis, financial secretary; John Opitz, treasurer; J. P. Dechant, trustee for three years. Herman Tavis, deputy chief ranger for North Dakota, was the installing officer.

F. Benz, agricultural agent of the Northern Pacific, delivered an impressive address before the Rotary club Wednesday, outlining some of the problems that confront the agricultural industry.

He emphasized the fact that there was great need for education of the farmers, to show to some one still did not have faith in scientific farming that it did really pay far better than careless hit or miss farming.

Regular rehearsal of the Mandan Municipal band was held at the high school last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Weeks left today for Duluth, Minn., to make their future home.

W. E. Couch of Spencer, Ia., returned yesterday by automobile after spending several days at the home of his sister, Mrs. George Dailey.

A marriage license was issued by the county judge to Miss Rose Kuhn and Liborius Fries, both of Flasher.

Mrs. C. E. Edquist who recently moved to Butte, Mont., arrived here yesterday to visit with her sister, Mrs. F. L. Burdick.

A hallowe'en card party and dance will be given by the Brotherhood of Railway Employees Oct. 24. Elaborate arrangements are being made for the affair which is the first of a number of social affairs planned by the committee.

MINERS WILL GO TO WORK UNDER FRENCH

Sign Agreement in Big Ruhr Mine Area—Food Riots Reported in Berlin

Duesseldorf, Oct. 12.—An agreement has been signed between the German miners' union and the French authorities for the return of all the miners and officials of the Dortmund mine, one of the largest in the Ruhr, which the French occupied sometime ago to exploit it themselves. A similar agreement was made for the Bergfeld mine in the same district.

Under the agreement all expelled miners, officials and office employees are allowed to return.

STUDENT SLAIN BY YOUNG GIRL

Had Jilted Girl Who Was Supporting Him

Philadelphia, Pa., Oct. 12.—Harry Cabanagh, a student at the chiropractic school here, who last night was shot on the street by a young woman said by the police to be Miss Katherine Miller, died early today. Miss Miller, the police said, will be charged for murder.

Reports from Wilkesbarre quoted Mrs. Anna Cardello, a sister of Miss Miller, as having said that young woman had been paying Cabanagh's way through college. Mrs. Cardello said her sister recently learned the student expected to marry another girl.

"Harry told me Saturday he was through with me and for me to go shoot myself," the police quoted the girl as saying. "I went to the room and got the pistol. I met Harry and he was leaving the school. He told me he didn't want anything more to do with me and I shot him."

In a letter found in the girl's pocketbook she pleaded with him to come home, and enclosed $2 he was to use for taxi fare, the police said.

Home Coming Day Planned

Grand Forks, N. D., Oct. 12.—"The greatest Homecoming staged at the University of North Dakota" is the aim of the committee in charge of the event according to Henry Nelson, Chairman of Homecoming.

The annual Homecoming Day for the University is set for Saturday, October 13, and the largest number of graduates and former students ever assembled on the campus are expected to return for the day. The program is filled with interesting events beginning with the Freshman-Sophomore football game in the morning and ending with an informal and huge bonfire in the evening. Immediately after the football game, a pushball contest, unique in the annals of U. N. D., and a tug-of-war across the coulee will complete the contests between underclassmen. These contests take the place of the informal hazing conducted by Sophomore classes of former years, and are under the supervision of committees appointed by the Men's Conference, the local student governing body.

An award that is new in Homecoming history at U. N. D. is being offered this year for the best decorated house or hall. The athletic association has agreed to donate a cup which will have the name of the winning building or organization engraved upon it, with consecutive wins to mean possible permanent possession. A committee of faculty members and Grand Forks business men has been selected to act as judges. In order to give justice to fighting effects which are expected to play a prominent part in the decorations, the judging will be done Friday evening as well as Saturday morning. All awards will be announced between halves of the football game.

One of the best games of the season will be played on the University field in the afternoon when the Universities of North and South Dakota tangled in their annual battle. After defeating the South Dakota Coyotes and taking the glory out of their Homecoming in Vermillion last year, the North Dakotans face the chance of South Dakota reciprocating in what will be one of the stiffest games of the schedule according to sport writers.

An informal will end the day, with a great victory pyre scheduled to be lit during an intermission. A pep rally will be held in the light of the flames, and Alumni will again have a chance to join in old Varsity cheers and songs. An unparalleled celebration is assured to the Homecoming Alumni for their returning to Alma Mater, the student body feels, and a hearty welcome is the theme of the day.

GOMPERS IS NAMED HEAD OF A. F. OF L.

Re-elected Head of National Labor Body at Portland

Portland, Ore., Oct. 12.—Gompers was re-elected unanimously president of the American Federation of Labor. El Paso got next year's convention.

Portland, Ore., Oct. 12.—Election of officers and selection of the next convention city was the principal business of the convention of the American Federation of Labor when it reassembled this morning. El Paso and Detroit were the principal contenders for the next convention.

President Samuel Gompers, who has headed the Federation since its organization in 1881 except during one year, was declared by delegates generally to be certain of re-election and other officers also were expected to be retained.

BRUSH FIRES ARE QUELLED

Showers and Misty Weather Halt Spread

St. Paul, Oct. 12.—Brush and forest fires which for the past three days have been threatening to break beyond the established fire lines and eat their way into large stands of timber in northern sections of Minnesota today are reported as "under control" according to information received from the various sectors by W. T. Cox, state forester.

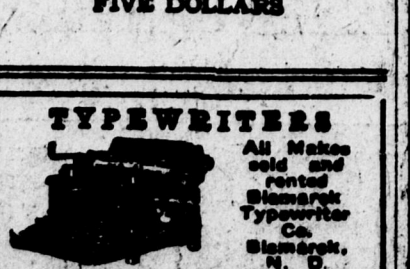

Showers which in some districts reached the proportion of a heavy rain and continued foggy and misty weather conditions prevailing for the past 24 hours materially aided in checking the creeping fires in the northern stretches of the state, Mr. Cox said.

FORD CHARGES POLITICS IS BEING PLAYED

Assails Secretary of War Weeks for Sale of Gorgas Steam Power Plant

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 12.—Henry Ford's offer for the purchase of the Muscle Shoals project in Alabama is still before congress, and will not be withdrawn, Henry Ford said last night in a statement, his first public assertion since the sale of the Gorgas plant to the Alabama Power company.

Mr. Ford charged that political influences were brought to bear to keep him from obtaining the plant and these "same influences prevented a vote in the house last spring" on the sale of Muscle Shoals to the Ford Motor company.

When authorities sought to arrest

Redwood city, Oct. 12.—Police investigation today indicated that robbery was the motive which prompted James Moore, 46, of Oakland, Cal., to kill his uncle, James H. Doolittle, 65, retired wealthy hotel man, with a hatchet and blind gang his aunt, Mrs. Doolittle, and J. Carroll Doolittle, his cousin, in the Doolittle home early yesterday.

Moore is in a critical condition with a bullet wound in his head caused when he shot himself in an attempt at suicide.

When authorities sought to arrest

him. Authorities declared they found a bag in which Moore apparently had placed silverware and jewelry valued at several hundred dollars and a burglar's kit and rope indicating that he apparently had planned to rob the home after he had bound the relatives. He was a guest in the Doolittle home Wednesday night and held them up as they sat at the breakfast table waiting for him to appear yesterday morning.

ROBS FAMILY THAT INVITED HIM AS GUEST

Kills Uncle and Gags Aunt When He Fails in Endeavor To Hold Up Pair

Redwood city, Oct. 12.—Police investigation today indicated that robbery was the motive which prompted James Moore, 46, of Oakland, Cal., to kill his uncle, James H. Doolittle, 65, retired wealthy hotel man, with a hatchet and blind gang his aunt, Mrs. Doolittle, and J. Carroll Doolittle, his cousin, in the Doolittle home early yesterday.

Moore is in a critical condition with a bullet wound in his head caused when he shot himself in an attempt at suicide.

When authorities sought to arrest

him. Authorities declared they found a bag in which Moore apparently had placed silverware and jewelry valued at several hundred dollars and a burglar's kit and rope indicating that he apparently had planned to rob the home after he had bound the relatives. He was a guest in the Doolittle home Wednesday night and held them up as they sat at the breakfast table waiting for him to appear yesterday morning.
